Township Resident Dies of Smoke Inhalation In House Fire on Princeton-Kingston Road

Leland M. Burr III, who lived alone in his home at 524 Princeton-Kingston Road, died from smoke inhalation from a smouldering basement fire Friday morning. He was 47 years old.

Arrangements for a memorial service had not been completed as of Tuesday. His death was the first fire fatality in the Township since 1985, when a foreman was burned inside a trailer at an Edgerstoune Road construction site.

A native of Boston, Mr. Burr had earned a doctorate degree in Elizabethan literature from Princeton University. According to a friend and former neighbor, Borough Administrator Mark Gordon, who identified the body for police, reading Elizabethan literature was one of the things he loved most.

Self-employed, Mr. Burr earned his living by managing his own stock and bond investment portfolio from an office inside his home. Neighbors said he had moved to the white-colored, one-story ranch home not far from Snowden Lane about four years ago.

He was also an environmentalist and used a wood burning stove to heat his house. Neighbors report that he liked to spend his free time chopping wood. Ironically, this stove may have contributed to his death.

A passing motorist observed smoke coming from the Burr home and called Township police at 6:58. When Ptl.

School Board Budget Meeting Attracts Large Audience of Citizens, Candidates

Last Tuesday night's School Board budget meeting looked like the hottest ticket in town. It drew more than 100 people, including not only large numbers of the community but also former School Board members, at least three members of Township Committee, a number of administrators and teachers, and almost all of the ten announced candidates for the April 7 School Board election.

The absence of Borough Council members could be easily explained: Council was having its own meeting that night.

Given the intense interest in the school budget, and its anticipated adoption on March 17, School Board President Joel Cooper announced that the Tuesday, March 10, meeting would include a budget discussion as well as the previously announced adoption of the new redistricting plan.

Dr. Cooper asked Board members to present their ideas for modifying the budget at this meeting.

School Superintendent Carol Choye announced she was looking at an alternative administrative system that would organize the administrative team to provide better delivery of services. This, she said, would also be presented on March 10.

The size of the administrative budget, as well as the need for a personnel director and supervising principal, were questioned by members of the community at earlier meetings.

Board Member Deborah Curtis raised the topic that had drawn a number of people to the meeting: Dr. Choye's efforts to eliminate the municipal vote on the school budget (when it is within the cap) as part of her lobbying, with other superintendents, for changes in the State's Quality Education Act (QEA).

In a prepared statement, Dr. Choye said that her activities with the superintendents' group had been widely reported in the press, and that she didn't realize her position on the school budget would become such an incendiary issue in Princeton. "When we

Protests Expected On Proposal to Drop School Swim Team

The Princeton Regional School Administration's proposed elimination of the high school swimming program was expected to draw a number of protesting parents and students to the School Board meeting scheduled for Tuesday night, March 3.

The Administration is seeking a savings of $7,369 in its high school athletic program budget. It recommends the elimination of the swimming team, which costs $15,869 to run, and the purchase of a new wrestling mat, at approximately $8,500, for the resulting $7,369 budget cut.

Lynn Maher, mother of a freshman student who is not on the swim team, plans to bring to the attention of the Administration and Board the subject of equity between boys and girls.

She said she will point out that State guidelines provide for equitable treatment in school athletic programs, "and all things point to the distribution of funds on an equitable basis and to the provision of equal opportunity to students of both sexes."

IT'S NOW AN ANNUAL EVENT: February 29th appears only once every four years, but on Leap Year Day last Saturday, the Princeton basketball team clinched its fourth consecutive Ivy League title with a victory over Brown in Jadwin Gym. The crowd roared its approval near game's end, waving placards featuring photos of senior players.

Fire

Robert Buchanan and Ptl. Judd Petrone arrived they had to force open the door. They requested a general alarm.

Once inside, the officers encountered dark, heavy smoke throughout the house. They had crawled down a hallway some 20 feet when they found two dead cats (a third cat was also found dead). They found Mr. Burr on the floor in the kitchen with no signs of life or a pulse.

There was a heavy concentration of soot around the victim's nose and mouth. An autopsy that afternoon revealed that he had succumbed to smoke inhalation. Mr. Burr had apparently been dead for some time, police said, because rigor mortis had set in.

Firemen from Princeton's three fire companies arrived and located the fire in the basement, which contained the wood stove and a small library. Police checked the stove and found it contained hot coals.

According to Township Fire Marshall Ted Cashell, the fire in the basement had probably smoldered for hours. It is the worst kind, he said, because such a fire first produces a lot of smoke, lethal carbon dioxide and other gases.

Investigators believe that books and papers piled not far from the stove dried out from repeated exposure to the stove's heat, and ignited at some point early in the morning. Just what caused the fire to ignite is still under investigation, said Princeton Fire Chief Joe Meyers. "It's tightly linked to the wood burning stove," he said, adding that "heat build up also had a lot to do with it."

There were three smoke alarms in the house. One at the basement cellar steps was melted beyond recognition, said Chief Meyers. "We found the parts on the floor." The parts are being examined to try to determine if it was working, he said.

A second alarm was in a bedroom. That was tested after the fire and was in working order. "The third we're not completely sure of," Chief Meyers said.

Mr. Burr is survived by his mother, Barbara R. Burr of Bedford, Mass.; two brothers, Peter of Montpelier, Vt. and Geoffrey S. of Lexington, Mass.; and three sisters, Elizabeth L. Shore of Madison, Wis., Virginia B. Hunt of Lake Oswego, Ore., and Constance B. Evans of Lexington, Mass.

More Computer Thefts On University Campus

The Michaelangelo computer virus is scheduled to strike worldwide on Friday, the artist's birthday; meanwhile, Princeton University has to contend with a criminal element that is stealing its Macintosh computers in record numbers.

Seven more were stolen last week, raising the number to ten and the value to more than $20,000.

"We're exploring all possibilities," said Capt. Peter Hanley this week. "We're certainly looking at who may have had access to all locations. Or if someone has access to keys." Police, he added, are also investigating if any fencing market exists in the area for stolen computers.

All the thefts last week seem to be similar, he said, in that there was no forced entry involved and, in virtually all incidents, cables securing the computers were cut.

Two thefts took place at East Pyne Hall. A Macintosh II CX with keyboard, mouse and color monitor, valued at $3,000, was taken from a locked room in the Department of Romance Languages and a Macintosh SEC was stolen overnight from a locked office in the Classics Department. No forced entry in either.

Two Mac II CX computers valued at $3,000 each were stolen from the Department of East Asian Studies in Jones Hall between 6 Friday evening and 9 the next morning. After an employee discovered the lock did not work, an investigation, Capt. Hanley said, revealed the lock had been forced.

Macintosh computers were also stolen from Eno Hall ($3,900), Frick Chemical Lab ($1,400) and Guyot Hall ($2,624). In the latter a $50 white sweater was also taken.

In what police say may be an allied theft, the 185 Nassau Street Building (the old Nassau Street School) was entered sometime between last Wednesday and Monday morning. A VCR and a video camera valued at $1,150 were taken from a shelf in an office. Three locked cabinets in the office were also forced open but nothing was taken.

Capt. Hanley said the office was believed to have been locked, but again, there was no sign of a forced entry.

Full Agenda Scheduled By Planning Board

The Princeton Regional Planning Board's agenda for the meeting on Tuesday night as TOWN TOPICS went to press included litigation discussion, a zoning change, revisions for the State Planning Map due March 20, and three applications.

The board meets at 7:30 and planned to go into closed session for the first hour to discuss efforts to resolve a lawsuit that was initiated by the Institute for Advanced Study in January, 1990, to protest a reduction in allowable density on vacant Institute lands that were incorporated into amendments to the 1989 Master Plan.

was expected to be a recommendation that restaurant use be permitted in the B-2 Zoning District, which includes the commercial buildings at 45-55 State Road owned by Philip Collins. Mr. Collins has empty space in the building and says that in the current economic climate restaurants are one of the few types of uses that are looking for space.

Mr. Collins says he does not have a specific restaurant in mind. Knowing how long things take to go through the Planning Board he says he would not want to sign a deal with a tenant until the zoning restriction is lifted. The Zoning Amendment Review Committee (ZARC) has recommended lifting the restriction, and the Planning Board's role is to decide whether or not it agrees with the recommendation and if so to forward it to Township Committee to be implemented by ordinance amendment.

Mr. Collins was also scheduled to be heard on an application to install additional awnings on the facade of his building. However, two other applications were scheduled ahead of his. One is an application from the Nassau Club for approval to construct a dining room addition and a carport drop-off area.

The other is an application for preliminary and site plan approval for the American Boychoir School to construct a one-story student dormitory. The facility is intended to house approximately 56 students and provide two apartments for supervising adults. Requests for variances for parking and landscaping of the parking lot are part of the application.

Princeton United Way Withholds National Dues

Concern about the news articles regarding certain management practices and policies of the United Way of America has prompted a decision by the trustees of the United Way-Princeton Area Communities to withhold payment of dues to the national organization until a full investigation has taken place and a report received. The dues are projected to be $22,000.

Way Is Now Open for Federal Trial On Admitting Women to Eating Clubs

The United States Supreme Court's refusal on Monday to hear arguments involving Ivy Club opens the way for a federal trial over the Princeton University eating club's efforts to deny membership to women.

The Supreme Court's denial of the New Jersey Division of Civil Rights' request for a hearing will permit the Ivy Club and Tiger Inn to go ahead with their suits against the Civil Rights Commission in federal district court in Trenton.

The original suit to open the clubs to women was filed by Sally Frank, a 1990 Princeton University graduate. Now an associate professor of law at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, Ms. Frank predicted the new trial will be lengthy, and will require calling as witnesses between 100 and 1,000 people who have eaten at the clubs.

The State Supreme Court in 1990 upheld the Division of Civil Rights' ruling that the clubs must accept women. Arguing that the order violated their First Amendment privacy rights, both clubs won bids to reopen their suits against the Division of Civil Rights.

Jeffrey Burstein, deputy attorney general of the Division of Civil Rights, last December asked the United States Supreme Court to hear his position that the Ivy Club should not have been allowed to reopen its case. His request was declined without comment.

Attorneys for the clubs voiced pleasure at the high court's action. "We will finally get a trial on Ivy's right to freedom of association after all these years," said Barbara Strapp Nelson, Ivy Club's attorney.

Nadine Taub, a co-counsel with Ms. Frank, suggested that the issue of attorneys' fees is another motivation for the clubs to press their case. Legally, the winner in a discrimination lawsuit can seek reimbursement for lawyers' fees.

Ms. Frank has submitted bills to the two clubs for $772,339 in legal expenses. She said she would get $1,700 and the rest would go to the New Jersey ACLU, which is represented in her case.

Ms. Nelson brushed aside the issue of the bill, stating, "This case is continuing because you have a clash of rights. Both sides feel they have important issues they want heard."

Both clubs now admit women, and club leaders have said there are no plans now to reject them again.

In a prepared statement issued this week the trustees state that "Any actions that diminish the public trust in the United Way are matters for serious consideration." The statement explains that the United Way-Princeton Area Communities (UW-PAC) is an autonomous corporation governed by a local board of trustees composed of individuals who work or live in the area. All programs, policies and fiscal matters are governed by this board and its committees.

The United Way of America is a separate corporation, located in Alexandria, Va. It acts as a national trade association, not as the headquarters for a single national corporation. It functions as a national service and training center providing leadership support and a wide variety of other services to a network of more than 2100 independent local United Way organizations.

United Way of America's principal support is derived from dues paid at the discretion of local United Ways, generally one percent of campaign totals. The United Way-Princeton Area Communities (UW-PAC) raised $3.1 million in the 1991-92 campaign just concluded. As a partner in the United Way of Tri-State, these funds will be used to support services through the Tri-State area.

From the campaign pledges, 13.1 percent will be used for UW-PAC overhead expenses.

This includes the staff and other expenses related to fundraising, allocations, public relations and administration. Every effort is made to use donated services in order to keep costs low.

One Shoplifter Charged; Two Others Take Lenox

In two thefts at the Princeton Shopping Center last week, Township police charged a Township resident with stealing items from the Super Fresh Market, but two other suspects escaped with three pieces of Lenox china.

Michael A. Seidel, 48, of Broadripple Drive was apprehended by store security last Wednesday in the market after he attempted, police said, to conceal food items including filet mignon, a package of smoked salmon, cream cheese and a can of tomato sauce worth a combined $22.24. He was turned over to Township police, processed and later released.

Late Thursday afternoon, two men entered Jordan's Gift Shop and while one spoke to an employee at the cash register, the second stood near a Lenox display. After the two left, an employee went to the display and discovered a bowl and a vase valued at $300 were missing plus a Lenox Christmas ornament valued at $95.

Both suspects are white males. One is described as six feet tall, thin, with salt and pepper hair worn in a pony tail. He was wearing a bomber-style denim jacket and white sneakers. The second suspect, also six feet tall, is heavy set and was wearing an orange baseball hat. Lt. Mario Musso reported they are believed to have driven off in a light blue or light green car.

Three Teenagers Charged

Three teenage girls were charged with stealing a dress last week from a Hulfish Street clothing store.

Police said a clerk called police after the girls left a dressing room and one dress was unaccounted for. The three were apprehended a short distance away on Witherspoon Street by Ptl. Steve Riccitelo. The officer recovered a floral dress valued at $175 and a $65 bathing suit that had been taken.

Sewer Service Extended To Princeton Nurseries

At its February meeting, the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority approved extending a sewer service to two large tracts of land in Plainsboro.

One tract is the 196 acres of the Princeton Nurseries land that lie in Plainsboro and are owned by Princeton University. The other is the Walker Gordon tract, said to be about 160 acres, now owned by Lincoln Properties, developers of Princeton Meadows. According to John Gaston, executive director of the SBRSA, each tract would use about 300,000 gallons per day of sewage treatment capacity if developed.

The Princeton Nurseries tract is part of the 488 acres purchased by Princeton University in early 1986. The remaining 392 acres are in South Brunswick, and have been included in the sewer service area ever since South Brunswick became a member of the SBRSA. Over the years, various parcels in Plainsboro have been included in the service area by franchise agreement with South Brunswick.

Following the purchase of the Princeton Nurseries lands, Princeton University proposed a mix of office and residential use on the property. The plan, which called for three million square feet of office space and 500 dwelling units on the 488 acres, raised concerns about traffic impacts in Princeton and was criticized by the Delaware and Raritan Canal Commission for infringing too closely on the D&R Canal Park.

The University withdrew the plan in 1988 and later that year announced that it would try to sell 366 of the 488 acres in order to recoup its investment on the original purchase. In May, 1990, the University announced it had made an agreement with a Texas-based real estate firm, Hines Interests Limited Partnership, to prepare plans and seek approvals for the development of the 366 acres.

According to Eugene McPartland, there is no plan in the works, and the decision on the

Indicted Teacher Retires

Manuel Morales, 48, who was indicted in early October and charged with sexually assaulting a student, has retired from the Princeton Regional District. A Spanish teacher in the high school, he was with the Princeton Schools for 24 years. His retirement was effective October 1, 1991.

Mr. Morales, who remains out on bail, was arrested November 21, 1990. He is charged with two counts of sexual assault and one count of criminal coercion for allegedly assaulting one of his male students twice within a three-year period. The student graduated from Princeton High School in 1990.

No trial date has been set, and Mr. Morales has had at least one pre-trial conference. These conferences determine if the case will go to trial or will be resolved by plea, according to Caroline Meuly, Middlesex County assistant prosecutor. "So far, no resolution is in sight," she said.

Ms. Meuly added that Mr. Morales may be exploring applying to the pre-trial intervention program, which would also eliminate a trial.

part of Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority to extend sewer service to the Plainsboro part of the property was not based on a development proposal. Rather, it was raised by the South Brunswick representative to the SBRSA, Louis Goetting, as a piece of unfinished business, now that the sewer ban has been lifted.

Included in Master Plan

Mr. Gaston points out that the tract was included in the Plainsboro and Middlesex County Wastewater Management Plans which were approved by the Authority and by the State and constitute a master plan for future development. As sewer capacity in the River Road treatment plant began reaching its authorized 10 million gallons per day limit in 1988, and a sewer connection ban appeared likely, a decision was made to defer action on the Princeton Nurseries Plainsboro tract and the Walker Gordon tract, Mr. Gaston said.

When the sewer ban was lifted, the SBRSA took care of its waiting list of projects that had construction approvals at its January meeting. After that, there was no reason to defer action on the two Plainsboro tracts any longer, and Mr. Goetting moved to include them in the South Brunswick-Plainsboro franchise. Princeton Borough and Township representatives, David Goldfarb and John Werth, signed to move Mr. Goetting's motion, but their motion to table was denied by the rest of the members.

Mr. Goldfarb then voted with Hopewell, Pennington, West Windsor and South Brunswick in favor of extending the franchise, and Mr. Werth voted against.

Since then there has been discussion at Borough Council as to whether the SBRSA acted properly on this matter without first consulting the governing bodies of the member municipalities. Borough officials have asked the Borough attorney, Michael Herbert, to investigate.

Borough Council President Mark Freda has said he is concerned about the SBRSA action because it could lead to expansion of the sewer treatment plant and induced development in the area.

Cable Meetings Set

Cable subscribers will have an opportunity to bring their concerns to C-Tec officials when Borough Council and Township Committee hold hearings on C-Tec's franchise renewal application. The company's current ten-year franchise ends in October.

The Township meeting will be held Monday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the Valley Road building. The Borough's meeting will take place Thursday, April 9, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

One topic expected to be brought up is C-Tec's request for a 15-year franchise. Borough Mayor Marvin Reed has already expressed reservations about this long a period, and the Joint Cable Committee is currently discussing the direction it can legally take in negotiating for a shorter franchise term.

"I imagine there will also be complaints about technical aspects of C-Tec's service," said Anne Reeves, chair of the Joint Cable Committee.

RUMMAGE SALE COORDINATORS: From left, Nora Wilmot, Margaret Austen, Barbara Bromley and Florence Phillips look over items donated to Trinity Church's annual rummage sale. The sale will take place Saturday, March 14, from 9 to 4.

10K Run begins at 10:30 with cash prizes for the top three men and women runners. The entry fee for participants is $10; the first 200 registrants will receive a T-shirt.

For additional information or to receive a registration form call 737-3735.

Annual Rummage Sale Coming Up at Trinity

Trinity Church will hold its annual Rummage Sale Saturday, March 14, from 9 to 4 in the church hall.

An entire floor will be devoted to good used clothing, from women's dresses and furs and men's clothing to name-brand children's outfits. The sale also includes a selection of working appliances, a nine-passenger station wagon, a Sheffield silverware service for eight, Boehm porcelain figurines and American Indian turquoise jewelry.

Books, games, sporting goods, housewares and linens will also be available. All items will be reduced to half price at 2, and at 3 there will be a $1-a-bag sale, in which customers may bring and stuff supermarket shopping bags with as many leftovers as will fit in them.

Homemade pastries and coffee will be available for purchase for early bird customers who arrive before the doors open. Luncheon sandwiches will be sold at noon.

Porsche Theft Fails When Owner Returns

A thief attempting to steal a sports car last week from a Harrison Street lot was forced to flee when the owner caught him inside the car.

According to Lt. Mario Musso, a 49-year-old Skillman resident, after visiting a doctor, returned to his 1985 Porsche and saw a person sitting in the driver's seat. "What are you doing in my car?" he demanded.

The suspect jumped out and ran behind the car. "I'm trying to steal it," he replied. "Get out of my f--- way." He then ran off toward the Princeton Shopping Center. The owner called police, who searched the area without success.

The car had to be towed when the owner discovered its ignition switch had been removed.

The suspect is a white male, 5-10, 150 to 160 pounds with a pocked-marked face. He was wearing dark pants and a tweed knee-length charcoal gray or black topcoat.

Two hours later, a resident of West Bloomfield, Mich.,

reported the theft of her 1986 GM Jimmy which she had parked in the east side of the Shopping Center lot near the Princeton Fitness Center. The victim told police her light blue vehicle, which she valued at $5,500, had been locked.

Three days later on Friday, police here received a call from the Elizabeth Police Department indicating the vehicle had been recovered in Elizabeth. "Considering it was the same day within an hour and a half of each other we have to assume," commented Lt. Musso, "that the first suspect is a possible suspect in this theft."

Driver Assaults Driver: Brunswick Man Charged

It began as a familiar pattern: one driver cutting off another.

According to Borough police, Anthony Bonavita, 22, of South Brunswick Township, was driving on Witherspoon Street Thursday afternoon when he was allegedly cut off by a 17-year-old Township driver. The two drivers pulled into the nearby Tulane West lot and words began to be exchanged.

Bonavita was arrested and charged with assault after he struck the juvenile several times with his fist, causing a laceration over the victim's right eye. The younger driver was treated at the emergency room at Princeton Medical Center and released.

Bonavita was released but faces a hearing Monday in Borough court.

Six Parked Cars "Hit" Behind Dial, Park Place

Three cars parked behind Dial Lodge on Prospect Avenue and three more in the Park Place lot were visited by thieves last week.

A passenger window was smashed to enter a 1985 VW and remove a flight suit, University track jacket and a high school track jacket worth a combined $285. An eight-inch spiral radio antenna valued at $100 was removed from another VW and a hood ornament was broken off a 1986 Cadillac — all behind Dial, all student victims.

All the Park Place incidents took place overnight during the weekend.

A rear window was broken to enter the 1990 VW of a Borough resident. Taken was a $65 pair of sunglasses. An attempt to remove a car stereo was unsuccessful. In another incident, a door lock was broken to enter a 1981 Jeep but an attempt to remove its radio from the dashboard also failed.

The interior of an unlocked 1988 Mazda was rifled but police report it appears as if nothing is missing.

Five in the Township

Township police report that five cars, all parked in lots at the Griggs Farm development off Cherry Valley Road, were entered during the weekend.

Two cars were parked in a David Brearley Court lot: taken from a 1989 Chevrolet whose side window was smashed were two sweaters, a nylon jacket and a leather travel case worth a combined $150. Cost to replace the window: $200. There were also several scratches on the side of the car.

A 1989 Nissan was entered and ransacked between 1 and 8 Sunday morning but nothing was taken.

Two more cars were parked in a lot in William Patterson Court. A small amount of change and a silver frame mirror worth $10 was taken from the visor of an unlocked 1989 Hyundai.

A driver's side vent window was broken out to enter a 1990 Ford pickup. Taken were three cassette cases holding a total of 80 tapes and a $150 leather emergency road kit. Total loss was $710.

A resident of Billy Ellis Court was awakened by a neighbor at 9 Sunday morning who informed him his car had a broken window. A check revealed the sunroof of his 1988 Honda had been shattered. Nothing was taken but the value of the window was placed at $200.

Princeton Foundations Fund New Stuart Labs

Three Princeton foundations have provided funding for the three laboratories which will be the centerpiece of the new Science Center at Stuart Country Day School. They are the Barbara Piasecka Johnson Foundation, Bunbury Co. Inc., and the J. Seward Johnson Sr. Charitable Trusts.

A recent gift from the J. Seward Johnson Sr. Charitable Trusts will support the biology laboratory. The facility will be named The J. Seward Johnson Sr. Laboratory for the Biological Sciences. The Charitable Trusts have a long history of generosity to Stuart, including a 1983 grant which enabled the school to become debt free.

A 1991 gift from Bunbury Co. Inc. will provide the chemistry laboratory, which will be named in honor of Dean Mathey. Mr. Mathey's philanthropies also have a long history of generosity to Stuart, most notably in support of the Dean Mathey Scholarship Fund.

A leadership gift to Stuart's 25th Anniversary Capital Campaign from the Barbara Piasecka Johnson Foundation will fund the physics laboratory. Mrs. Johnson will name the laboratory in honor of her fellow Polish countrywoman Madame Marie Sklodowska Curie, who was awarded a Nobel Prize for Physics in 1903.

'Meat Stinks, Is Murder' Says Bridge Graffiti

As graffiti goes, this was big league: about 200 feet long, in letters 16 to 18-inches high spray-painted in red on the east concrete side of the Harrison Street Bridge.

The message: "Meat is murder. Go vegetarian. Meat stinks. Animals are not ours to eat. Animal Liberation. Animal Rights. Stop the slaughter. Go Vegan. Peace for all."

Mercer County officials have been notified, reports Lt. Mario Musso, who said police noticed the graffiti at 12:35 Thursday morning. There are, he says, no suspects and no estimate of the removal cost.

Coffee Maker Is Stolen From Campus Building

A 90-cup coffee thermos valued at $175 was stolen last week from a table in the School of Architecture Building on the University campus.

In one of two thefts from a Cottage Club coat room, a student's L.L. Bean jacket worth $80 was reported stolen by the owner on Monday. It had been taken two weeks earlier.

Another student listed the theft Saturday of her Sportsac carrying case from a pocket in her jacket. It contained $40 and credit cards.

Taken from a 100 Palmer Square office during the weekend were a $60 GE radio from a desk and a $65 touch-tone phone.

Police report a pry tool was used to open the office door. The theft was discovered Monday morning.

Three Offenders Fined In Criminal Court Here

In Borough criminal court Monday, Lisa Abruzzesi, 1824 Ravens Crest, Plainsboro, was fined $50 and $50 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board on each of four counts of passing bad checks.

Todd Taylor, Patton Hall, Princeton University, was fined $75 and $50 VCCB for shoplifting, and David Lences, 294 North Harrison Street, paid the same fines for trespassing.

In Borough traffic court, Donna M. Fink, 386 North Harrison Street was fined $75 for careless driving, and Ruth Plawner-Blumenfield, 16 Piedmont Drive, Cranbury, paid $65 for speeding. Angela R. VanCleave, 164 Princeton Arms South, Cranbury, paid $30, failure to wear a seat belt.

In Township court last week, Timothy O. Leghorn, West Windsor Township, was fined $50 and $50 VCCB for disorderly conduct.

Director of Development Appointed at Princeton

David Blinder has been appointed director of development at Princeton University, effective April 15.

Director of corporate and foundation relations since 1990, Dr. Blinder came to Princeton in 1987 as associate director of leadership gifts and was promoted to director of foundation relations in 1989. He is a member of Princeton's Class of 1972 and holds a Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of California, Berkeley.

In his new position, Dr. Blinder will manage capital giving activities for the University and work with Vice President for Development Van Zandt Williams and Director of Annual Giving William Hardt on planning and coordinating fund raising in the private sector.

Dr. Blinder taught philosophy at Yale University and at the University of California at Irvine and at Berkeley before joining development at Princeton. In addition to working for development, he is a lecturer in the Philosophy Department. As director of development, he will succeed David Maxson, who is leaving Princeton to become executive vice-president for external relations at the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

Princeton Rotary Club Celebrates Its 50th Year

The Rotary Club of Princeton is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Gov. Jim Florio issued an anniversary proclamation, and the event was also marked by the Borough and Township, with the two Mayors proclaiming February 28 as Rotary Club of Princeton Day.

The club was chartered February 12, 1942, just in time to see a number of its members go off to war.

Weekly luncheon meetings were a feature from the beginning, and the club — now numbering 117 — still meets every Tuesday at 12:15 at the Nassau Inn.

Membership is by invitation only, and members must be principals in their business or profession. No more than two per profession are allowed.

Rotary saw a significant change about five years ago, when the courts compelled a California club to accept women. Every club automatically followed suit, including Princeton. Its first woman member was School Superintendent Carol Choye, who remains active in the club. About 18 women are currently members.

A service club that raises funds for numerous causes, Rotary finds some unusual ways to generate contributions. Members have to pay fines, for example, if their name appears in the newspaper. Or if a man grows a moustache, or shaves one off. Or if something happy, such as a graduation or wedding anniversary, happens in a Rotarian's family.

Many Fund Raisers

Register to Vote

New Jerseyans who are not currently registered to vote in their municipalities must do so by Monday to participate in the state's annual school election.

Persons may register to vote at the office of their municipal clerk or office of their county clerk. Voters must be 18 years old, a citizen of the United States, and maintain their main residence within the municipality in which they are seeking to vote.

Tuesday, March 31, is the last day that county clerks can receive applications by mail for absentee ballots. Information on absentee ballots and applications is available from the Office of the County Clerk.

fast, and a radio auction

Last year, Princeton Rotary contributed $30,000 to the community. It also gave an additional $15,000 to Rotary International. Several years ago, the club gave $60,000 to Rotary International's Polio Plus project, which was aimed at eliminating polio throughout the world.

Area recipients of Rotary contributions are numerous, ranging from the American Boychoir to the YM-YWCA. The Rotary Club of Princeton Foundation provides scholarships at area high schools for students who are not going to college but who wish to follow technical or vocational careers.

The club also sponsors the Interact Club at Princeton High School. Students meet weekly, elect their own officers, and function as a high-school-age Rotary club. They have their own community service projects and their own fund-raising events.

Exchange Program

The club is also an active participant in the Rotary Exchange Program, which sends teams of young people around the world.

The project goes both ways. Later this month, a team from The Netherlands will visit Princeton, where team members will visit hospitals, Princeton University, and area factories.

Much of the Princeton club's focus is on youth, and it is an enthusiastic contributor to Rotary International's scholarship program. This provides scholarships to study abroad at the graduate level.

The same emphasis on youth is seen in the Princeton community. In addition to work with Interact and the scholarship program, the club gives major support to community organizations that help young people. It is also a contributor to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund, which helps people in need in the community.

Happy Anniversary, Rotary, and many, many more.

Appointments Announced By the Medical Center

New Director Named At Princeton Center

Michael N. Danielson, B.C. Forbes Professor of Public Affairs at Princeton University, has been selected as director of the University's Center of Domestic and Comparative Policy Studies (CDCPS).

Prof. Danielson will succeed John J. DiIulio Jr., professor of politics and public affairs, who has served as the center's director since its founding in 1990 and will resign effective July 1.

Prof. Danielson, who earned his Ph.D. at Princeton in 1962, has worked on a broad range of issues in urban policy and domestic affairs. In addition to his work on urbanization in the United States, he worked in Turkey. In the 1960s, he served as an advisor to the administration of New Jersey Governor

Richard Hughes, drafting the legislation that created the Department of Transportation and helping to create the Department of Education and the Department of Community Affairs.

In recent years, Prof. Danielson's research has focused on economic growth and community development in New Jersey; the analysis of large-scale private community development and efforts to secure public controls on growth on Hilton Head Island, S.C.; the examination of new patterns of urban development on the fringes of U.S. metropolitan regions; and the role of professional sports in urban development.

The Center of Domestic and Comparative Policy Studies was created by the Woodrow Wilson School in June 1990. Its primary purpose is the support of scholarship relating to major issues of domestic policy in the United States. CDCPS strongly emphasizes interdisciplinary research among economists, political scientists, demographers, and other social scientists.

United Way Surpasses $1 Million Campaign Goal

The United Way-American Red Cross Princeton Area Campaign has topped its 1991/92 goal of $3.1 million.

The campaign total of $3,142,789 represents a six percent increase over last year and $176,165 in new pledges. The pacesetters were Bloomberg Financial Markets, which

Sexual Pressure Topic

The Nassau Christian Center Youth Program will sponsor a video presentation entitled, "How to Help Your Child Say 'NO' to Sexual Pressure."

The presentation will take place Friday, March 13, at 7:30 in the Davis Conference Room at Princeton High School.

The video features Josh McDowell, who has had experience speaking to high school and college young people. Topics covered will include why young people become sexually active, how to help them stay out of potential pressure situations, building self-esteem and the ability to say no, and how to reinforce positive influences.

Information and practical help for parents of teenagers and pre-teens will be provided.

All interested people are invited and encouraged to attend. Admission is free.

participatory workshop will begin at 10:30 for the first 30 children who sign up, followed by the play.

This play is especially appropriate for the year of the Columbus quincentenary celebration. Beginning 20,000 years ago when the first people crossed the Bering Strait, it is the story of the pre-history of this continent and how the people who lived here hunted, fished and farmed until that day in 1492 when sails appeared on the horizon. Written by Joseph Robinette and designed by Spiritree, the production is directed by Creative Theatre's Artistic Director Eloise Bruce. When calling for tickets, be sure to ask about the workshop.

Children 4 and 5 years of age are invited to become the characters in their favorite nursery rhymes when Creative Theatre leads a participatory drama workshop for preschoolers on

Programs at the Library With Creative Theatre

Princeton Public Library and Creative Theatre will present three programs for children at the Library during the month of March.

On Saturday, March 7, at 11, "A★B★C (America Before Columbus)" will be performed for children in kindergarten through grade six. Free tickets will be available at the Library, or may be reserved by calling the Children's Department at 924-9529, beginning March 1. A Wednesday, March 11, at 3:30 p.m.

A workshop for children from kindergarten through second grade will be presented on Friday, March 27, at 3:30, when children will participate in a creative reenactment of a story from America's history.

To register for either program, call the Children's Department, 924-9529, beginning Monday. Registration is limited to 25 children.

Princeton Professor Set For Talk on Soviet Union

What effect will current events in the Soviet Union have on the rest of the world?

Henry S. Bienen talks on this topic this Wednesday at 8 at the home of Larry and Wendy Pierce Evans, as part of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association's Fireside Lecture Series.

Prof. Bienen, dean-elect of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and an authority on trade and security, advisor to the government in Washington, has just returned from a month in the Soviet Union. He brings with him the latest information on the effects of political instability, and economic and cultural changes during these crucial times for the U.S.S.R.

The cost for this event is $25 per person. Refreshments will be served after the talk. To reserve a place, call 737-3735.

Economist to Speak At Coalition Dinner

Audrey Freedman, an economist and management counsellor with The Conference Board, a leading business network, will be the keynote speaker at the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament's 11th Annual Membership Dinner on Sunday, March 15 at Mackay Student Center of Princeton Theological Seminary.

The program will begin with a reception at 6 and continue with a catered dinner at 6:30, reports and awards at 7:45, and the keynote talk at 8:15. The deadline for reservations is Friday.

Ms. Freedman, a frequent expert commentator on the MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour, will speak on "Economic Conversion in the Post-Cold War Era." She is the author of more than 50 reports and articles covering a wide variety of subjects in the human resource field.

She is a member of the board of directors of Manpower, Inc., a global business that supplies temporary help, employing one and a half million people in 38 countries.

The Coalition will also honor four of its volunteer leaders at the dinner: Al Cavallo, chair of the annual conference committee; Niels Nielsen, co-founder and vice-chair of the organization; and Ray and Alice Olson, who serve as regular office volunteers as well as on the Peace Education and International Citizen Diplomacy Committees.

The cost of the dinner for Coalition members is $25 per person, $15 for those with limited income. Nonmembers can attend by making a membership contribution ($25 individual, $40 household, sliding scale for fixed/low income), in addition to the dinner cost.

For further information, call the CND office at 924-5022.

Two Red Cross Chapters Consolidate into One

The board of directors of both the Princeton Area and Trenton Area Chapters voted February 24 in separate meetings to give final approval to a consolidation plan that will bring the two chapters together into one organization, to be called the New Jersey Capital Area Chapter.

Combining resources and expertise from the Princeton Area and Trenton Area Chapters will create a new entity that can effectively serve the projected increase in demand for Red Cross programs and services, which include Disaster Relief; blood Services; Special Transportation Services for the elderly and handicapped; corporate and community health and safety programs ranging from CPR instruction to AIDS education; Meals on Wheels; Service to Military Families; and youth programs.

The New Jersey Capital Area Chapter will serve East and West Windsor, Hopewell Borough and Township, Princeton Borough and Township, Trenton, Pennington, Hightstown, Belle Mead, Rocky Hill, Ewing, Skillman, Plainsboro, Hamilton, Cranbury, Montgomery Township, Lawrence Township and Washington Township.

Architectural Scholar To Speak at Princeton

The School of Architecture at Princeton University will sponsor a lecture entitled "Constructivism and Americanism" by Jean-Louis Cohen on Wednesday, March 11 at 5:30 in Betts Auditorium.

Mr. Cohen is a research professor at the School of Architecture Paris-Villemin, France.

Two Police Officers Are Teaching Drug Abuse Resistance to 5th Grade

Teach children the way they should go and they will follow.

A drug abuse resistance program, first designed by the police department and school board in Los Angeles in the early 1980s, is currently in the fifth week of a 17-week course at the fifth grade at John Witherspoon School.

The program, named DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) is designed, said Township Juvenile Officer Renn Kaminski, to reach school children "just prior to that point where they might become involved in drug or alcohol abuse." The program has since spread to all 50 states and military bases across the nation.

Det. Kaminski and Ptl. David Dudeck, the latter the newly-appointed Juvenile Officer in the Borough, and former Borough Juvenile Officer Dennis McManis, who is teaching the DARE program to fifth graders at St. Paul's School, underwent two weeks of special training by a unit of the State Police. Currently, said Det. Kaminski, there are more than 300 DARE instructors in New Jersey schools.

The students are given a workbook and the officer-instructor provides them with accurate information about drugs and alcohol, discusses how to resist peer pressure and offers alternatives to drug use. "I enjoy it and the kids love it," says Det. Kaminski.

He teaches four classes on Tuesdays at JWS and Ptl. Dudeck teaches three on Wednesdays. This year they are working just with fifth graders but hope to expand to include fifth and sixth grade next year. Also contemplated is a mini-course for those in kindergarten through fourth grade.

The program has been very successful in Los Angeles, reported Det. Kaminski. A study, he said, comparing kids who had DARE to those who didn't revealed a significantly lower rate of any kind of crime or drug use.

An added benefit of the program is that children get to know policemen and what they do, to see them in a positive and not a negative light.

Registration Under Way For YM Youth Baseball

Registration is under way for youth baseball and t-ball at the Princeton Family YMCA.

The program emphasizes teamwork, good sportsmanship, self-esteem and learning to respect and get along with others. Winning is put into proper perspective, according to Steven Rodriguez, the new sports director.

Registration is available in person or by calling 497-YMCA. Play begins April 6 at the YMCA field. Age groups are 4-5 years and 6-7 years.

Buses Are Sponsored To March in Washington

Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area (PPAMA) is sponsoring buses to the march in Washington, D.C. in support of a woman's right to choose a safe, legal abortion. To be held on April 5, the march is organized by the National Organization for Women and is co-sponsored by a number of pro-choice organizations.

Buses will leave the Quaker Bridge Mall parking lot (near Firestone) at 6 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be available. They will leave Washington at 6 p.m. and return by 10 p.m. Cost is $25 per person. Registration deadline is March 27.

During the trip PPAMA staff will bring riders up to date on the current legal status of abortion and provide information on how to contact legislators.

Call Judy Walker at 599-4411 for more information or to register.

Princeton's Donald Ross Hamilton, a distinguished nuclear physicist who also served as dean of the Graduate School.

The event is open to the public.

Columbus Quincentenary Topic of Campus Lecture

The Princeton University public lecture series will continue on Monday with a lecture by Dr. John Hebert, coordinator of the Library of Congress's Columbian Quincentenary Program, on "Navigating through Uncharted Water: The Challenges of the Columbian Quincentenary."

A distinguished historian of cartography who specializes in Latin America, Dr. Hebert has worked since 1969 at the Library of Congress and was appointed in 1989 to head the Library's celebration of Columbus's journey to the Americas. Dr. Hebert will discuss the many ways in which people around the world are now commemorating Christopher Columbus's arrival in the New World, and he will also consider the ways in which Europeans learned about the huge and mysterious American continents in the first 50 years after 1492.

Princeton University public lectures are designed for a general audience, and the public is invited. Dr. Hebert's lecture will take place at 8 p.m. in Betts Auditorium, in the Architecture Building on the University campus.

Spring Youth Soccer Registration Under Way

The Princeton Soccer Association is holding registration for its spring soccer leagues for boys in kindergarten through sixth grade and girls in K-eighth grade.

Registration is for the PSA recreational leagues which will play on Saturday mornings from March 28 through May 30. All games will be played at the Washington Road soccer fields. The registration fee is $30. It will be waived in the case of financial hardship.

The house leagues are divided into separate divisions for boys and girls by school grade. Residency in Princeton and previous soccer playing experience are not requirements to join. All children applying will be assigned to a team.

Registration forms can be picked up at the Recreation Department office in Community Park at the corner of

A. Einstein Biographer To Lecture on Campus

Abraham Pais, a Rockefeller University theoretical physicist and historian of science, will give the 19th annual Donald Ross Hamilton Memorial Lecture Tuesday at 8 in Jadwin Hall on the Princeton University campus.

Dr. Pais worked with both Niels Bohr and Albert Einstein and has written biographies on these two giants of 20th-century physics. Subtle Is the Lord... The Science and the Life of Albert Einstein won the American Book Award for Science in 1983. His book Niels Bohr's Times: In Physics, Philosophy and Polity, was published earlier this year.

Dr. Pais, the Detlev W. Bronk Professor Emeritus at Rockefeller, will speak on "American Science and World War II." His lecture is part of a series begun in 1972 to honor event observed simultaneously in 170 countries and regions of the world on the first Friday in March. Initiated in the United States in 1887, World Day of Prayer is intended to act as a catalyst to bond Christian women into a powerful community of faith as they participate in this globe-encircling petition for peace and justice in the world.

In Princeton, World Day of Prayer will be observed at a special service at noon at Trinity Church. The theme is "Living Wisely with Creation" and the service was written by women of Austria, Switzerland and the Federal Republic of Germany.

All women are welcome regardless of church affiliation, and are invited to bring a bag lunch. Mrs. Helen Langhans of All Saints' Episcopal Church is chairwoman.

CRAFT BOUTIQUE: Kristin Whetzel and Mitra Pene admire quilts that will be available at the Spring Boutique sponsored by the Gospel Fellowship of Plainsboro. The Boutique will be open Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from March 19 through April 11.

Craft Boutique Begins At Plainsboro Church

The Gospel Fellowship Church in Plainsboro will hold its Spring Crafts Boutique every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from March 19 through April 11, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The boutique offers hand-crafted items made by 150 different professional crafters.

The church is located at 626 Plainsboro Road across from the Rescue Squad. The church property, which consists of a 150-year old Victorian farmhouse and three-story barn, sits at the highest point in Plainsboro. Originally part of the Britton homestead, the church purchased the property in 1985.

Since that time the pastors and members have been remodeling and rebuilding the former potato barn into a chapel and outreach center for Plainsboro and the surrounding community. The church's annual Christmas and spring craft boutiques have become the major source of fundraising for this reconstruction.

The two floors of the Victorian farmhouse and the main floor of the three-story barn have been transformed into the Spring Boutique, which includes silk and dried flowers, wreaths, baskets and arrangements, bunnies, gourmet foods, handmade dolls and bears, and country crafts, along with handcrafted furniture and clothing.

Each room has its own special theme; the Victorian room, the country crafts basement, the children's room, the gourmet kitchen, and the barn, full of spring and Easter items.

In addition to the crafts, there will be a photo studio for those who would like to have a portrait taken for Easter or Mother's Day gift-giving. Reservations for portrait sittings may be made at the checkout register.

The Spring Boutique will be open Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 10 to 9 and there is no admission fee. Visa, Mastercard, or personal checks will be accepted. For more information call 799-1945 or 799-2304.

Authentic Indian Meal To Benefit Class Trip

The 7/8th grade at the Waldorf School of Princeton will hold an authentic Indian meal Saturday at 5 at the Princeton Baptist Church hall, Penns Neck. Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children, and the proceeds will benefit a class trip to Europe.

With their teacher Ekkehard Heyder, the 7/8th graders formed the Waldorf School's pioneering first grade class in 1985. They are planning a trip to Europe to connect with the roots of Waldorf education and of their teacher, who was raised in Europe and taught in German Waldorf schools. The students will attend the Waldorf School in Colmar, France, before hiking into the Vosges Mountains.

There will also be side trips to the Burgundy region as well as shorter trips to Switzerland and Germany. For tickets to the dinner call 466-1970 or any of the 7/8th grade students.

Maple Sugaring Brunch At Watershed Association

Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will hold a maple sugaring brunch on Saturday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. A maple sugaring tour of the reserve will also be held Saturday afternoon from 1 to 2:30.

Educators from the Watershed Association will demonstrate how maple syrup goes from tree to table. Participants will help tap trees, collect sap, boil it down and taste it. The group will discuss the ecology of sugar maple trees and the history of maple sugaring. Following the walk, the morning group will have pancakes with maple syrup, fresh fruit salad, bacon, juice, milk, coffee, and tea.

Enrollment is limited and pre-registration is necessary. The fee for brunch and morning tour is $10 for adult members and $7 for children under 12. Nonmember adults pay $15 and children under 12, $10. Fees for the afternoon tour are $1 members, $2 nonmembers.

Children must be accompanied by an adult. For further information or to register call the education office, 737-7592.

The Watershed Association is offering a woodcock watch for families and adults this Thursday and on Wednesday, March 11. Both programs begin at 6 p.m.

Minority Day Planned At Mercer County College

Mercer County Community College will sponsor its ninth annual Minority College Day on Friday, March 13 from 9 to 1:30 on the West Windsor campus located at 1200 Old Trenton Road. The program is free and open to the public but reservations are required.

The day's events are specifically designed for minority 10th through 12th graders who will soon be making choices about continuing their education and deciding on career goals.

The day's events will begin in the Kelsey Theatre with keynote addresses by Edward Bullock, director of Human Resources at Lancome Manufacturing, a division of Cosmair/L'Oreal in Piscataway, and by MCCC Student Government Association President, Nathaniel K. Ejiogu.

A series of workshops are planned on topics such as improving study habits, choosing the right college, finding money for college, career planning, and diversity in the classroom.

For more information, call the Admissions office at 586-0505.

Venture Grants Available From the United Way

United Way-Princeton Area

Communities is seeking proposals from nonprofit agencies in the areas of transitional housing and respite care. The purpose of these venture grants is to provide funds for innovative programs that enhance the delivery of service in the Princeton area. This is part of an action plan to implement the human service needs assessment completed in March, 1990.

The deadline for submitting proposals is April 15. For further information call Tamara Melzer Levenson, director of resource distribution, at 734-9302.

150th Anniversary Year At Griggstown Church

The Griggstown Reformed Church on Canal Road, Griggstown, is celebrating the 150th anniversary of its founding in 1842.

Celebrations will begin on Thursday, March 12, when the church will hold a Dutch Treat Covered Dish Dinner at 6:30 along with a worship service and rededication ceremony. It was 150 years ago on March 12, 1842, when a meeting was held in the little frame schoolhouse on the west side of the Millstone River to consider the possibility of organizing a local Reformed Church congregation and erecting a church building in the village of Griggstown.

For several years the people of the district felt the necessity of having a church established at a point more convenient than Harlingen, Hillsborough or Kingston, the three churches where many villagers worshiped. Because the village of Griggstown formed the center of a circle about 10 miles in diameter within which there was no house exclusively devoted to the purpose of public worship, its geographical position made it a desirable location for a new church.

A weekly prayer meeting had been maintained in the school house in Griggstown for more than 100 years, with occasional visits from pastors of the neighboring churches. While these services were highly appreciated, they did not meet and satisfy the public need. It was a unanimous showing of hands at the meeting of March 12 that started the formation of the Griggstown Reformed Church.

A petition was signed by 27 people of Griggstown and presented to the Classis, or ruling body of the church. June 21, 1842 was the day of organization of the Griggstown Church, when the elders and deacons were appointed and ordained. The church was formally named The First Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of Griggstown.

The building for the church was contracted out at a total cost of $675. Many of the family names from the early records are names that are still part of the active membership.

To celebrate the milestone, an anniversary committee has been organizing activities and special commemorative services. The committee consists of John Allen, Lily Arnesen, Nancy Jorgensen, Sue Nilsen, Ray Peters, Margaret Smith, June and Lloyd Staats, Laura Terhune and the Rev. Dennis Ferguson, pastor.

The potluck supper on Thursday, March 12, will feature various Dutch recipes handed down from generation to generation. Griggstown has a rich heritage of its original Dutch settlers, joined later by Scandinavian families who had moved from Brooklyn to "God's Country" around 1926 and formed the small community of Norseville and Sunset Hill.

There will be speakers at the dinner who will recall the founding of the church and talk about the architectural design of the church building and manse.

On Thursday, March 19, the Hope College Chapel Choir from Michigan will present a concert and there will be a reception following the performance. On Palm Sunday, April 12, a combined choir from area churches will present the David Clydesdale cantata, "How Great Thou Art," at 4 p.m.

A fashion show of antique bride's gowns and other gowns will take place Sunday, May 17, at 3 in the church hall. On Sunday, June 17, there will be an anniversary worship service at 11, followed by a dinner in the church hall to mark the actual date of the church's charter and affiliation with the Reformed Church in America.

Other anniversary events include an old-fashioned Harvest Home, the annual church fair, on Saturday, August 22, from 3 to 9. And on Sunday, November 15, at 4, the sanctuary and bell choirs will present a special concert, followed by soup and sandwiches in the church hall.

Consider Your Home When Choosing Exterior Colors

Whether you're repainting or painting your home for the first time, you'll want to select exterior colors carefully.

After all, the outside of your home will likely be in the public view for all the world to see.

It's important to consider neighboring homes, because you'll want yours to be compatible with those surrounding it.

Another thing to note before you color shop, is that some parts of your house may not be painted; for instance, brick or roofing material. Color of these materials must be considered.

You'll want to choose a color scheme that is in keeping with the style of your home. Historical colors that enhance a Victorian home may not do justice to a modern ranch.

It's hard to go wrong by painting the body of the house a light color and the trim a darker color. Simply choose an attractive combination such as a creamy beige body with chocolate brown trim, or a light gray with slate blue trim. On homes with interesting architectural details, use an additional color to emphasize them.

For inspiration and ideas, look at actual homes or photographs of them in magazines. You'll soon discover your likes and dislikes, and you'll be prepared to select that special color scheme that's right for you.

When selecting an exterior hue, make sure the color is of the non-fading type. Most first-quality exterior ready-mixed colors are. However, when custom-mixed colors are selected for exteriors, it is important to verify that they are recommended for use on outside surfaces.

Princeton Needs Fiber Optic Cable Network

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Could it be that the length of Mark Haverkate's letter suggests that Mr. and Mrs. Peter Carril struck a raw nerve when they suggested that the threat of removal would be good for C-Tec's customers? While I am delighted to have the capability on the school channel of learning the latest creative names for the hamburgers that will be served for school lunches next week (ask your kids what they should really be called), and grateful for being spared a $36 per year extortion for a $10 remote control unit which is incompatible with anything else, Mr. Haverkate in his February 26 letter has C-Tec's interests too much in mind. Trying to obscure our view with smoke and mirrors, and not a little snow on the screen won't work Mr. Haverkate.

While there will indeed be a revolution in the capabilities of cable and other media, a 15-year contract will simply give C-Tec a comfortable pew, and an excuse to delay the implementation of that new technology, thus maximizing profits in the interim. I understand the profit motive, and C-Tec should be given a chance to make a reasonable return on their investment, but the lack of competition has gone on long enough. One has only to read of the legislative activities which are targeted at the monopolistic practices of cable companies, to realize it is in the interest of C-Tec to sew up a contract as soon as possible, and for as long as possible.

Since even garbage collection isn't a total monopoly in Princeton, I suggest that there be some creative thinking on the part of the committee charged with the contract renewal to help protect our interests here by agreeing to an initial five-year contract. During that time, there should be a concerted effort to plan, and implement an alternative service which would be competitive to the existing C-Tec service. To help make this happen, and to realize some of the benefits of the advancing technology, Princeton should consider taking over the ownership of the distribution system, or better yet, look at the installation of a fiber-optic network, over which there is easily the capability of carrying more than one cable service.

Fiber optic cable is actually not that expensive, and is already being installed for voice communications in some communities. Since the vast majority of people in this town use cable connections (I think), the costs will be relatively minor in the long run, and certainly competitive. Part of our collective payments to C-Tec presumably cover their "mortgage" on the untidy collection of wires around town, but you can bet that we pay a healthy margin of profit above their true cost for the money. The end benefit may not be a real reduction in the absolute costs for cable as used by most people, but the potential for interesting options and services provided through vigorous competitive activity needs to be considered.

Two things need to happen. C-Tec needs the motivation of an injection of a little fear, and the committee needs to broaden its thinking and realize that they should be responsible for a long-term and creative strategy for information services in Princeton, not just a clear picture of movies on HBO.

Adequate Funding Needed For Adequate Education

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We are concerned with the recent uproar about the budget of the Princeton Regional schools and about Dr. Choye's lobbying activities.

There appears to be a lot of unhappiness with the budget process, with the blame falling on the administration. We agree that the $11,500/annum cost per student is very high and would certainly have expected excellent education for the money. It may, however, be worthwhile to stress the obvious: adequate funding is a necessary — but not sufficient — condition for excellent education. We see the following problems.

1. Most of the budget (75% in '91-'92, 79% in the proposed '92-'93 budget) goes to pay salaries and benefits (teachers, administrators, secretaries, custodians, etc.). This part of the budget is established through closed-door negotiations between the Board of Education and the unions representing teachers, administrators and support personnel, and is not subject to public debate (except for a final yes/no vote by the Board of Education).

Books and supplies, operating expenses, infrastructure maintenance, debt service, and capital improvements together account for less than 25% of the total budget. Cutting budget, therefore, tends to result in a decrease in student programs.

For example, last year's cutting brought us no foreign language instruction in the 5th grades, no German language instruction in PHS, and increased class sizes throughout PRS. Is this what we (parents and taxpayers) really want?

3. It has been suggested that administrative costs should be cut drastically. While this is an admirable wish, it should be remembered that schools must be administered and this service must be paid for. It is totally unrealistic to expect the administration to impose heavy cuts on itself. The Board of Education should take the initiative in this process, by examining the administrative structure and proposing specific cuts (i.e., elimination of specific positions); it is unfortunate that the Board has failed to provide this leadership.

3. The Board of Education is also responsible for the high cost of personnel salaries and benefits. The present budgetary crisis is to a large extent attributable to the extremely generous salary package negotiated by the Board of Ed in June 1990, committing PRS to teacher salary increases of 9.7%, 9.5% and 8.7% for the '90-'91, '91-'92 and '92-'93 school years. The average '91-'92 teacher salary is $46,000 for 185 work days over 10 months. The labor negotiating process must be reviewed and realistic goals must be established for the future.

4. The recent furor about the Superintendent's lobbying activities appears to be part of an unproductive process of venting frustration with the PRS on the administration and on the overall budget. Two types of complaints are present: on the appropriateness of the lobbying activities and on the issue of public voting on school budgets. Part of the problem with the lobbying activities appears to be a lack of communication with the Board of Education itself — some Board members apparently being unaware that the Board had previously approved at least some of Dr. Choye's lobbying efforts.

As we saw last year, voting on the school budget led to its rejection. The overall effect was as discussed in (1) and not in reducing the "fat." We believe that the loss in educational quality and opportunities was not justified by the very small amount of money saved by the taxpayers. The argument by the Superintendents' group is valid: voting only on a school budget, rather than on all budgets, makes it vulnerable to public frustration and does not lead to better education for less money.

We have serious problems: rapidly rising school budgets; a Board of Education which has failed to take the initiative; an administration, not surprisingly eager to protect itself; lack of strong curricula throughout the school district; failure of the school system to deliver good education to all socioeconomic groups and an overall decline in educational quality and opportunities due to chaotic budget development process.

We believe there is a possibility of a solution. There is an elected body, the Board of Education, that must take a serious leadership role in all

No Grant Requested By Fire Department

To the Editor, Town Topics: Your February 19 edition contained a letter from Michael Perna regarding an alleged grant from the Princeton Area Foundation to help furnish the Griggs Farm Community Center. He suggested that a grant to the new firehouse on Wither- spoon Street might warrant a higher priority.

I believe that this letter evidences some misunderstandings in the community which should be corrected.

First, the grant to Griggs Farm was made by the J. Seward Johnson Sr. Charitable Trusts on the recommendation of the Princeton Area Foundation. (I was invited to attend the dedication ceremony principally because of my personal support of the Community Center, rather than as a representative of the Foundation.)

Second, no application by the Fire Department for a grant had been made to either the Trusts or the Foundation. If such an application is made in the future, it would have to be considered under the grant-making policies of those organizations.

Third, Griggs Farm is a mixed-income housing project of Princeton Community Housing, Inc., a nonprofit corporation formed by a number of religious and educational institutions in the community. One of the objectives of the project was to help Princeton Township meet its Mt. Laurel obligation for affordable housing.

Subscribers' Lives Made Miserable by C-Tec Cable

To the Editor of Town Topics: I am writing to report further misadventures with C-Tec Cable.

In his reply to complaints from Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Carril (TOWN TOPICS, February 26), C-Tec vice president Mark Haverkate states unequivocally that "remote control is included in the basic rate."

We have a cable box attached to each of two TV sets for which we pay $34.50 a month for basic service only. The converter box for the first set costs $26, and for the second, $8.50. We were given a remote control for the first box, but none for the second even though we pay basic rates for both boxes.

After reading Mr. Haverkate's letter saying "remote control is included in the basic rate," I called C-Tec to get a remote control for our second box. Mr. Haverkate was too busy to speak to me, but his assistant, Mary Clare Hahn, said we would have to pay a monthly fee for a second remote control.

She first claimed that Mr. Haverkate had never stated that remote control was included in the basic price. She then claimed that he had been misquoted, even though the quote came from the letter he himself sent to Town Topics. She finally said that no matter what Mr. Haverkate may have said in his letter, a remote control is not included in the basic rate for a second set.

These are the people who have made Princeton cable subscribers' lives miserable since 1986. Surrounding areas which deal with other companies have better service on better channels (despite Mr. Haverkate's long list of unwatched and unwanted free channels) for less money.

Princeton will have an opportunity to be heard on the subject of C-Tec Cable at upcoming public hearings. I hope the public will be there in force to make its opinion known.

IT'S NEW To Us

Linens, Clothing & Gifts Highlight Handblock

"It's fun for people to take time to look around and discover what's here. It's eclectic, a real mix, and full of surprises."

Manager M. E. Lawlor has certainly described Handblock, the ladies' boutique and country living store at 51 Palmer Square West. With its intriguing combination of handcrafted items, clothing, linens, pottery, and variety of gifts, Handblock offers a potpourri of choices.

The shop, which opened last May, is one of several stores in the U.S. and Canada owned by April and Chris Cornell of Cornell Trading, Inc. As its name indicates, the store carries on the tradition of handblock printing, and in particular, selected items in table and bed linens and clothing are hand blocked. Many of these carry Handblock's own Cornell Trading Label.

"We are proud of all our linens and clothing," remarks Ms. Lawlor. "The table linens, especially, are very beautifully done, are 100% cotton, machine washable, and they are also affordable."

"Our clothes are designed by our own design staff in Montreal," she continues, "and we also have dresses from Indonesia and India. Everything is natural fibers, including cotton, rayon, and linen. Many of the dress lines encourage coordinating, with blouses, skirts, and sun dresses, both prints and solids, suitable for mixing and matching. Also, many of our dress styles for spring are reminiscent of the 1940s."

DISTINCTIVELY DIFFERENT: "We call it a ladies boutique and country living store. We carry handcrafted items from craftspeople all over the world," explains M.E. Lawlor, manager of Handblock, located at 51 Palmer Square West. Tablewares, linens, gifts, jewelry, and clothing are featured, and Ms. Lawlor is especially enthusiastic about "the wonderful selection of straw hats with ribbons and flowers, which just came in and will be perfect for spring and Easter."

Ms. Lawlor adds that Handblock's selection of white cotton nightgowns and blouses have been very popular. These are often hard to find, she points out. "We have them available in several styles, and the blouses include cotton voile, which is very lightweight and comfortable."

Bed and table linens are also very popular at Handblock, and there are many wonderful patterns from which to choose. Customers often like to coordinate the linens with cushions and with other fabrics in the house, explains Ms. Lawlor. "People enjoy doing a room over, and we offer help with mixing and matching. They will bring in a fabric, and we help with choices. We also have a large selection of both cushions and cushion covers."

The Cornell Trading label is also available in the store's large selection of pottery, including platters, mugs, teapots, and candlesticks, among other items. Hand-painted and made in Portugal, it is characterized by its "Craquelé" crackling glaze, a natural process, which results in an especially fine glaze on the pottery.

Other types of pottery are in stock, as well as glassware, picture frames (pewter, silver, needlepoint, and hand-painted), clocks, candles, and trays.

Many Gift Items

The assortment of items is bound to please those looking for a gift. There are charming needlepoint hangers, hand-made wedding and photo albums, and for the gardener, especially colorful wood and ceramic garden stakes, with vegetable motif.

Jewelry is also offered at Handblock, and the selection of mostly silver and some gold vermeil and semi-precious stones includes, rings, earrings, pins, necklaces, and bracelets, from $8 to $60.

"Also, we like to have men come in and see what is here," says Ms. Lawlor. "We have men's shirts, and it's a great place for them to stop by on their way home from work and find a gift for a special occasion."

The price range at Handblock includes mugs from $9 to $30, wooden decorative angels at $10, 16-inch napkins $4 and $4.50, blouses $20 and up, picture frames $8 and up, and straw hats $25 to $60.

"We have a lot of gift items under $20," reports Ms. Lawlor, "and we also offer gift certificates and gift wrapping. Much of the winter clothing is now reduced 70%."

She adds that the customer response has been excellent. "We have really enjoyed our reception here. We have very special customers, and many come in on a weekly basis. Also, we get new things in all the time to show them."

Handblock offers an especially pleasant environment in which to shop or browse, and customers enjoy the charming decor and inviting atmosphere. Fresh flowers are always on hand, and there is the additional fragrance of lavender and dried flowers.

"Service is very important at the shop," says Ms. Lawlor. "We are set apart first by our customer service, and second by the merchandise mix, the wonderful Cornell products, and also by the price points."

"We have a wonderful staff, who enjoy helping the customers and seeing them pleased. We are certainly looking forward to continuing our relationship with the community. We are still being discovered!"

Handblock is open Monday through Saturday 10 to 6, Thursday until 8, and Sunday 12 to 5.

It's New to Us

North Indian Cuisine At the Palace of Asia

"The most appealing thing about our food are the spices we use, the texture, and how we make our dishes, how they are presented. It's the way we blend everything together. It's different, very different, and very, very tasty."

"The quality of our food sets us apart," continues Raza Dhami, manager of the Palace of Asia restaurant. "Everything is fresh, and the ingredients are all the best."

Specializing in northern Indian cuisine, the restaurant opened in 1985 and is located at 2055 Nottingham Way in Hamilton Township. It has been very popular with aficionados of Indian food, with the majority of customers coming from Princeton. It is easily accessible from Route 295.

"Seventy-five percent of our customers are American," points out Mr. Dhami, "and most know Indian food, but there are others who are just getting introduced to it. We also have customers who are Indian."

He adds that the food at the Palace of Asia is not as spicy as that in some other Indian restaurants, and is known more for its careful blend of spices and ingredients and flavorful sauces and dishes.

"Also, we can always adjust the spices to the customers' taste," he says. "If someone wants less or more, we can make it how they will enjoy it. And we always explain what's in the dishes if people don't know."

Among the favorites at the Palace of Asia are a number of chicken dishes, including Chicken Tikka Masala, which is chunks of chicken cooked in a creamy sauce with fresh tomatoes; Tandoori Chicken, marinated in yogurt and mild spices and baked in a special brick oven; and Chicken Bhuna, cooked with spices, green peppers and onions, and lightly curried.

A variety of shrimp, beef, and lamb dishes is also available, as are the increasingly popular vegetarian specialties.

"A lot of customers are eating the vegetarian dinners," notes Mr. Dhami. "All the vegetables are fresh, and we use vegetable oil and have cut down generally on the use of oil."

Assorted appetizers, soups, and special Indian breads are popular, and Indian tea, authentic Indian ice cream, and unique cheeses are also among the choices.

All lunch and dinner entrees are served with Basmati rice, and the variety of combination specials is very popular. There are also several rice specialties, with vegetables, meat or shrimp.

Pleasant Atmosphere

The subtle and unique flavor of Indian cooking, along with the relaxed and pleasant atmosphere of the Palace of Asia, inspires diners to linger, notes Mr. Dhami.

"We are getting a lot of families, too," he adds. "Our prices are affordable, and people like to relax here. They don't feel rushed."

He mentions that the Indian tapestries, wall hangings, background music, and fresh table linens create an authentic decor. "We have tried to be as authentic as possible. People can be sure they will find authentic Indian food. We offer the best service, and the Indian waiters add to the authenticity."

In addition, he notes that owner Sukhdev Kabow, who recently opened another Palace of Asia in Pennsylvania, is a chef himself, and pays careful attention to the food. "He knows exactly what it takes to make it the best!"

Mr. Dhami also reports that the restaurant will soon move to a new location in the area, and that he expects it to be even better.

"We want to be very special. I really like challenges, and I want to introduce Indian food to every American. I feel obligated to offer the very best we can and to more and more people."

"We intend to introduce new dishes," he continues, "and I am confident that no one else can do it better. We have an excellent chef, and we have the highest standards."

Entree prices at the Palace of Asia start at $4.95 for lunch and $7.95 for dinner.

Take-out is available, as is full service catering. All size dinners and parties, including wedding receptions, can be accommodated.

The restaurant does not have a liquor license, but customers are encouraged to bring a bottle of wine if they wish. Reservations are advised for Friday and Saturday.

The Palace of Asia is open for lunch every day 11:30 to 2:30, and for dinner weekdays and Sunday 5 to 9:30, Friday and Saturday 5 to 10:30. Telephone 588-9062.

Documentary Drama at Theatre Intime Recreates Troubled Life of a Mentally Disturbed Young Woman

"Dear Whoever you are, please find me and have me as your beloved," pleads Verity Taylor, the mentally disturbed young protagonist in Theatre Intime's Find Me by Olwen Wymark currently playing at the Murray Theater on the Princeton University campus.

Inspired by letters that the family allowed Ms. Wymark to read, this intense documentary drama presents a troubling picture of the tension, guilt, frustrations and desperation — not just of Verity herself, but of all the family members, friends, teachers, doctors, social workers and others who intersect with her unhappy life from birth to age 21. Find Me premiered in England in 1977 and played first in this country at Actors Theatre of Louisville in 1979.

The eight members of the student cast, under the direction of Princeton University junior Curtis McConnell, take on more than 30 different roles in this free-flowing series of scenes from Verity's life. Mr. McConnell wisely relies on minimal set, costuming and staging, however, and, despite rapid shifts in from a second-floor window, one hospital official laments that there are "not any right plans for a girl like Verity. We don't know how to help Verity."

Family's Story, Also

This is not only Verity's story, however. It is perhaps her mother and the other members of her family who suffer most in struggling desperately for Verity's sake and for the salvation of their own ruined lives.

Elaine Boxer, Dallas Dickinson, Pete De Rosa, Jen Grant, Katherine Hinkleley, Alice Hughes, Millet Israeli and Kwame Ivery make up the capable cast. The difficulty in singling out any one member is a testimony to their effectiveness as an ensemble unit.

Ms. Israeli is especially moving in a long monologue as Verity's long-suffering mother preparing to write yet another letter begging social services for help. Mr. Ivery is memorable, at times humorous, in his anger and frustration as Verity's brother. Ms. Hughes is perhaps the most energetic and striking of the actresses playing Verity, though most of the play's finest moments are the result of shrewd, sensitive staging and finely articulated ensemble work.

The effective design — set by Alex Volkhausen and lighting by Mike Sattler — leaves the stage bare with a few chairs brought on for particular scenes, two raised levels upstage and all bathed in an evocative purple light that elicits an appropriate mood for these settings which are as often in characters' minds as they are in physical space.

Mr. McConnell's pacing is swift and smooth, the dozens of scenes follow rapidly on each others' heels, and skillful lighting changes provide the requisite transitions. Costumes are uniform for all the performers: blue jeans and long-sleeved white shirts bearing the play's logo.

The point of view shifts swiftly in this play, but ultimately there is no Big Nurse oppressor, no villain to blame. We are left with only the multiple images of the little girl, grown to be a 21-year-old, lost in the prison of her illness and crying for someone to "find" her.

Final performances of Find Me are at Murray Theater at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Call 258-4950 for reservations and further information.

—Donald Gilpin

News of the THEATRES

time and setting throughout the play, the poignant drama confronts us directly and powerfully.

The actors form a highly flexible ensemble, with each of the five women playing the protagonist at some point in the play, and at times all five play Verity simultaneously, as the playwright probes different facets of the character's troubled psyche.

A difficult, distant little child who never smiles and doesn't like to be touched, Verity begins to exhibit extreme reactions, "socially unreliable" behavior and a mild epileptic condition. At age 11 she initiates her first major scene of destructive violence, and she and her family embark on the unhappy journey through a network of hospitals (even making a brief stay on a geriatric ward), halfway houses, and special schools with all their bureaucratic frustrations.

But Verity does not find the help she needs. By the time she is 19 and has just jumped

Auditions Are Scheduled For Summer Dance Study

The Princeton Ballet School will hold auditions for its Summer Workshop on Sunday in New York City and Princeton.

Both auditions will be conducted by Dermot Burke, the artistic director of American Repertory Ballet Company. The auditions will take the form of a ballet class. The New York City auditions will be held at Peridance Studios, 132 Fourth Avenue, 2nd Floor from 11 to 12:30. The Princeton auditions will be held from 4:30 to 6:30 at the studios of Princeton Ballet School, 262 Alexander Street. There will be a $7 class fee for each audition.

The summer workshop is open to advanced students age 14 and older by audition and runs from June 22 through July 24. The faculty will be headed by Mr. Burke and Ballet Mistress Marjorie Mussman. In addition to two to three hours daily in ballet class, students have classes in pointe, partnering, modern and jazz.

A choreography workshop will offer the students an opportunity to exercise creativity and develop communications and leadership skills. Through a series of lunch-time seminars, students learn injury prevention, nutrition, auditioning and stage make-up.

The 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. day also provides rehearsals for a final performance, giving students the flavor of a professional dancer's day. Field trips include a trip to Lincoln Center for a dance performance, canoeing, swimming, and local music and drama performances. Students will be housed in dormitories on Princeton University's campus.

For further information, contact Mary Pat Robertson, school administrative director, at 921-7758 or write to: Princeton Ballet School, 262 Alexander Street, Princeton 08540.

Summer Drama Program Offered to Young People

McCarter Theatre's Outreach Department will offer summer theatre programs for youth beginning in July. The programs include McCarter's Shakespeare Summer '92 for high school students, as well as creative drama and acting classes for grades K-8.

Area teens are invited to audition for Shakespeare Summer '92. The intensive four-week program is designed to introduce aspiring actors in grades 9 to 12 to the works of William Shakespeare. Participants will study acting, movement, speech, stage combat and scansion, culminating in a full Shakespeare production.

The programs run from 9 to 3 June 29 to July 26. Auditions will be held in May.

Creative drama and acting classes for grades K-8 meet three times a week during the month of July. Classes offered include creative drama for grades K-1, acting and play development for grades 2-3 and grades 4-6, and more advanced technique for grades 7-8. Class times and dates will be announced.

Call McCarter Outreach at 683-9100, extension 6166 for more information.

American Rep Ballet Due at State Theatre

American Repertory Ballet will open its spring dance season with "rep night" Saturday at 8 at the State Theatre, 17 Livingston Avenue, New Brunswick.

The program will include Stuart Sebastian's classical, light-hearted Mozart Donces, a work based on the social, country and court dances of Mozart's day and set to Mozart's Five Country Dances, K. 609 and German Donces, K. 571 and 509. Dermot Burke's Don't Teach Me Sweet Poetry, premiered last season, is a modern ballet about the legendary battle of the sexes. The music is by Phebe Snow and the dance is about men and women caught in the perennial power game.

Also included in this program is the pas de deux created by Mr. Burke in homage to Rodin. Still Lives is about two statues in the corner of a museum coming to life.

The young American Repertory Ballet dancer/choreographer Septime Webre brings his jazzy ballet And So It Goes back to the stage. Handel's Concerti Grossi adds a classical counterpoint in sound to this ballet that, although classically based, is fast-paced and contemporary.

Tickets are $12 to $20. Call Ticket Central, 908-246-7469, for reservations. Group discounts are available.

of jazz-active sons Branford, Wynton and Delfayo, but also played a key role in rescuing jazz from a seemingly downward spiral with his work as an influential instructor at the New Orleans Center for the Creative Arts, the music school that spawned many of the best young players in the recent jazz boom.

In addition to his own children, Ellis Marsalis has also nurtured and influenced a generation of brilliant young jazz musicians including Harry Connick Jr., Terrance Blanchard and Donald Harrison.

Tickets, ranging from $15 to $23, are still available. To charge by phone, call the McCarter Theatre box office at 683-8000. VISA, MasterCard and American Express accepted.

Wagner Opera "Rienzi" Readied by Pro Musica

Princeton Pro Musica and the Opera Orchestra of New York will perform Richard Wagner's opera Rienzi on Tuesday at Richardson Auditorium, and Sunday, March 15, at Carnegie Hall, New York. Both concerts will begin at 8 p.m.

Eve Queler, music director of the Opera Orchestra of New York, will conduct the chorus and orchestra in the program that will feature the American Boychoir as the Messengers of Peace, tenor David Rampy as Rienzi, soprano Susan Owen as Irene, and mezzo-soprano Janice Meyerson as Adriano. Other members of the cast will include Kevin Deas as Orsini, Ron de Fesi as Colonna, Howard Wilkinson as Raimondo, and Robert Guarino as Baroncelli.

The opera, one of Wagner's early works, will be performed in concert version with the traditional cuts. Set in 14th-century Italy, it tells the story of Rienzi, the last Roman Tribune, and his struggles with the corrupt aristocracy.

Tickets for the Princeton performances may be purchased through either the Princeton Pro Musica office or the Richardson Auditorium box office. The Princeton Pro Musica office number is 683-5122; hours are Monday through Friday from 10 until 5 p.m.

The Richardson Auditorium box office is open Monday through Friday from noon until 6 p.m. and the number is 258-5000.

Tickets for the Carnegie Hall performance are available from the Opera Orchestra of New York, (212) 799-1982, or from the Carnegie Hall box office, (212) 247-7800.

Ticket costs for the Princeton performance are $20 and $17 for adults, $17 and $12 for seniors, and $10 and $6 for students; all tickets are for reserved seating. Ticket prices at Carnegie Hall range from $18 to $63.

Baseball Cantata Plus By Voices Ensemble

Casey at the Bat: A Baseball Cantata by William Schuman will be performed by the Voices Chorale and professional ensemble Saturday at 8 at Pennington Presbyterian Church. The program will also include Haydn's Lord Nelson

Mass and Brahms' Songs for Women's Voices, Horns and Harp.

The concert marks the first independent event for the Voices community chorus, which was formed in January to provide challenging music for talented area singers.

Professional singers from the Voices ensemble will also be featured. Haydn's Lord Nelson Moss will include solo performances by Linda Curtin, soprano; Sandra Hoffmann, mezzo-soprano; Gregory Lorenz, tenor; and Brian Phipps, bass. Characters featured in Casey at the Bat include the hot-headed manager, played by bass Martin Hargrove, the self-centered umpire, played by Mr. Phipps, and the talkative reporter, by baritone Paul Rhodes. Piano and organ accompaniment will be by Stephen Peet, pianist and vocal coach.

A rarely performed Brahms work will provide some quiet melodic moments during the concert. Four Songs, Opus 19, was written for the Hamburg Women's Chorus. The unusual scoring for two French horns and harp derive from text references to hunting horns and harps. The chorale, soloists and instrumentalists will perform under the direction of Lynne Ransom, founder of Voices.

Tickets are $18 for preferred seating, $12 for general admission and $8 for students and seniors, with $2 off per ticket to everyone wearing a baseball cap. To order tickets, send a check to Voices, PO Box 404, Pennington 08534. For information and group discounts call 737-9383.

Home Concert Planned By American Boychoir

A concert entitled "The American Boychoir On Tour ... At Home" will give New Jersey audiences the chance to hear the Boychoir in a typical tour concert. It will be held Saturday, March 14, at 8 in Richardson Auditorium.

The Boychoir now has two touring choirs. One is conducted by music director James Litton; the other, by assistant director Wallace Hornady. The two will come together for this concert in an unusual joint appearance.

The program will be divided into three parts. The first is "Great Choral Works for Boys' Voices" and presents music of such masters as Bach, Handel, Lasso, Victoria, and Gibbons. In the second portion, the audience will hear Charles Davidson's I Never Saw Another Butterfly, settings of the poems of children of Terezin, the so-called Nazi "Paradise Ghetto." The Boychoir performed this work in Terezin itself as part of its Czechoslovakian tour last October.

The final selection of the concert, "Folk Music and Favorite Songs from Around the World," includes spirituals and folksong arrangement. The concert will conclude with two specialties arranged for the American Boychoir: "Songs from the Forties," and John Philip Sousa's The Stars and Stripes Forever.

Tickets for "The American Boychoir On Tour ... At Home" may be purchased at the Richardson box office, 258-5000. The box office is open Monday through Friday from noon to 6 and two hours before any concert. Ticket prices are $18 and $15 for adults, and $6 for children and students with I.D.

Duo-Pianists to Perform At the Choir College

Duo-pianists Ingrid Clarfield and Lillian Livingston will perform a concert on Sunday, March 22, at 8 in Bristol Chapel on the campus of Westminster Choir College. The program will include Arensky's Suite No. 1, Opus 15; Stravinsky's Petrushko and Moussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition. The performers are both members of the piano faculty at Westminster.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. For more information, call the Westminster Choir College Office of Concert and Special Events at 921-2663.

Children's Concert Set By the Youth Orchestra

The Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra will present a concert especially designed for children and families on Sunday, March 15, at 3 in Richardson Auditorium.

The program will begin with a dialogue between Jack Perlstein, announcer for radio station WWFM, and "Magnolia," the well-known puppet of television personality Mary Ritts, a Princeton resident. The dialogue is based on an Ogden Nash-style poem called "Why an Orchestra?" which was written especially for this event by Carol Atkin and Maxine Farmer of Princeton.

Eric Yun

The poem will also be printed in a booklet which will be given to children in the audience to take home. "Why an Orchestra?" will introduce Constantine Kitsopoulos, GPYO music director, and the different instrument groups, until the whole orchestra is assembled on stage. Then, with Mr. Kitsopoulos at the piano, the orchestra will play excerpts from Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue.

Other pieces will follow that will introduce individual members of the orchestra. Amy Nyitrai, oboist, will be featured in an Albinoni oboe concerto. Eric Yun, violinist, will be featured in Saint Saens Introduction and Rondo Capriccio, and John Pezik, trumpet, will perform in Haydn's Trumpet Concerto. Ezra Wood, a violinist, will be the guest conductor in a performance of Offenbach's overture to Orpheus in the Underworld.

After intermission, Mr. Kitsopoulos will be joined by David Sengstack as the narrator in a presentation of Benjamin Britten's Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra. The concert, which also serves as a fundraising event for the Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra, is sponsored by the Parents' Association of the orchestra.

Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for students of high school age or younger. Tickets are available at the Richardson Hall box office, 258-5000, and at the door. For more information call the GPYO office, 683-0777.

Guitarist to Make Debut With the N.J. Symphony

Guitarist Christopher Parkening will make his New Jersey Symphony Orchestra debut in chamber orchestra concerts led by Peter Rubardt, resident conductor. In this area, there will be performances Wednesday, March 11, at 8 at the State Theatre in New Brunswick and Friday, March 13 at 8:30 in Richardson Auditorium.

The program will include Bach's Suite No. 3 in D Major, BMV 1068; Rodrigo's Fontosio poro un Gentilhombre; Koda-ly's Summer Evening, and Mozart's Symphony No. 39 in E-flat Major, K. 543.

A protege of the Spanish guitarist Andres Segovia, Mr. Parkening has performed in major cities around the world and also at the White House. His recordings have received two Grammy nominations for best classical recording.

Tickets to the concert are available at $10 to $25. Student and senior rush tickets at half price are available one-half hour before the performance, subject to availability. For tickets and information call the NJSO box office at (201) 624-8203 or 1-800-ALLEGRO, weekdays from 11 to 6.

Piano Festival in March At the Choir College

The Westminster Conservatory of Music, the community school of music of Westminster Choir College, will hold its fifth annual Spring Piano and Chamber Music Festival March 13 to 15.

It will take place on the Choir College campus and will feature music lessons, workshops and a variety of concerts, including guest artist Dennis Kobray. Dressed in period costume, Mr. Kobray will perform several of J.S. Bach's works to bring the music of Bach and his times to life. The concert will begin the weekend on Friday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5.

The Festival will be held Saturday and Sunday from 8:30 to 5. Registered students will attend a semi-private lesson on Saturday and Sunday for a half hour. Also, they will choose three to four electives. Their choices range from handbell ringing to music theater. New this year are a lullaby class, drawing lessons, folk dancing and a family chorus class.

Fees for the student vary depending on age and how many days each person will be attending. Parents are encouraged to attend to observe the music lessons and the electives their child chooses at no extra cost. Parents may also attend a Teacher/Parent Enrichment course which discusses the teacher/student relationship, how to help the child or student with his instrument and other topics.

The cost for the enrichment course is $40 for both days.

The Westminster Chamber Ensemble, conducted by Barbara Barstow, will perform Saturday, March 14, at 7:30. Joseph McSpadden, guest artist, will perform his trios for piano, violin, and cello accompanied by Kathy Shelhart, Westminster Conservatory faculty member, and students of the workshop. McSpadden will present during the Saturday workshop. Other arrangements by McSpadden will also be performed. Tickets are $3.

Public School Choice

The Princeton Area League of Women Voters will present a program on "Improving Public Education Through Choice" at the Woodrow Wilson School, Bowl 6, at 8 p.m. on March 11. The program is open to the public.

Guest speaker will be Frank Esposito, former aide to Saul Cooperman and now a professor of history at Kean College. Mr. Esposito, who has done extensive research and serves as a consultant on this topic, will discuss public school choice strategies that have proven effective throughout the country.

Federation will hold its annual Business and Professional Division dinner on Thursday at Prospect House, Princeton University campus.

Guest speaker will be Amy Goldberg, president of Chock and Goldberg, which offers training for business executives and industry spokespeople in communication skills. For further information and reservations, call 243-9440.

The Princeton Macintosh Users' Group will meet at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Woodrow Wilson School auditorium, Washington Road.

Katie Hafner, co-author of Cyberpunk, will speak about famous and infamous computer hackers and the hacker culture and ethic. There will also be a demonstration of the Canon Xap Shot still-video camera and the ability of the Macintosh to edit and enhance the camera's image.

The meeting is open to the public and visitors are invited to arrive an hour early if they wish further information.

Irene Goldman, chairperson of the International Citizen Diplomacy Committee of the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, will report on her recent three-week trip to Russia Thursday at 7:30 at Nassau Presbyterian Church (Room 204). Ms. Goldman will report on her efforts to confirm the delivery of 600 pounds of food shipped as part of CND's "Food for Peace" campaign to a Moscow-based relief organization in early February.

Ms. Goldman, a resident of Titusville, is fluent in Russian and holds a degree in Russian language and literature. Following her report, the International Citizen Diplomacy Committee will have a short business meeting to discuss upcoming program plans.

The public is invited, whether or not they have had previous involvement, to both Ms. Goldman's presentation and the meeting.

A Fathers' Group will meet for the first time Monday from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the Newgrange Community Outreach Center, 2-4 Chambers Street, Suite 101, Twenty Nassau Professional Building.

The group will be comprised of fathers of children with learning disabilities. It will begin on an open enrollment basis, at a fee of $25 per session. The group leader is Peter Cohen, Ph.D.

Andre' Aciman

For further information, call the Outreach Center, at 924-6204, or The Newgrange School, at 394-2255.

The Cercle Francais de Princeton will meet Sunday at 4 p.m. in McCosh 60 on the Princeton University campus.

Andre' Aciman, assistant professor in the Princeton Romance Languages Department, will give a lecture entitled "La Princesse de Cleves — Essai de Psychanalyse Precieuse."

A graduate of Lehman College and Harvard University, Prof. Aciman's wide range of interests and writings include Trompeurs and Trompes: Jealousy and Infidelity in Marguerite de Navarre; The Last Alexandria, a memoir to be published shortly; and The Fictions of Jealousy: from Ovid to Proust.

The meeting is free and the public is invited.

The National League of American Pen Women, Princeton branch, will meet Saturday, March 14, at 10 a.m. in the Arts Council building. Annette W. Jaffee, writer and author of the novels Adult Education and Recent History will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be the place of autobiography in fiction.

The Princeton Photography Club will meet Wednesday, March 11, at 8 p.m. at the Arts Council.

There will be a photo competition. Members may submit up to three slides or prints.

For further information, call 799-4682.

The Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company will hold an "all you can eat" roast pork dinner on Saturday at the firehouse on Canal Road. Serving hours will be from 5 to 8. Admission is $10. Children under 10 will be admitted for $2.

The Women's Division of the Jewish Center is hosting a Purim Casino Night on Saturday, March 14, at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $35 per person in advance, $45 at the door, which includes $50 play money, hors d'oeuvres, and dessert. The evening will include live music. Additional play money can be purchased throughout the evening. Persons may bring their own liquor. Soft drinks will be provided.

The event is open to the public. For further information and reservations, call 520-0375 or 921-0100.

Dr. Ted Bachmann will tell the West Windsor Retirees Group about his work in Germany following World War II at the group's meeting at the West Windsor library at 10 a.m. Monday.

All retirees are welcome.

ART

Gallery Talks in March At Princeton Art Museum

Gallery talks in March at the Princeton University Art Museum include an examination of the symbolism in a Northern mannerist painting, a discussion of Dutch history paintings, and a study of the implications of recent research on a Chinese mural. The final talk in March will examine the art and architecture of the Classic Maya. The talks, which are given on Fridays at 12:30 and again on the following Sunday at 3, are free and open to the public.

The significance of domestic settings in Northern mannerist paintings will be explored on Friday by docent Dorothy M. Shepard, in "Why an Oriental Rug in The Four Evangelists by Abraham Bloemaert." This is the first public lecture to focus on this painting, which was acquired by the museum in 1991.

On Friday, March 13, guest lecturer Frances L. Preston will discuss Artemisia by Gerrit van Honthorst (1590-1656), a telling example of Dutch history painting. She will also address the growing interest in this genre, an area not often represented in American museums but with particularly good examples in the collection at Princeton.

The implications of recent research on a Chinese wall painting will be the subject of a gallery talk on March 20 at 12:30, when Avi Landau, graduate student in the program on Asian art, discusses the history of Attendant to the Bodhisattva and its significance in the study of Chinese painting.

On Friday, March 27, Gillett Griffin, research curator of "THE ART STUDENT," an oil painting by Thomas Torak, is included in an exhibition of work by Thomas and Elizabeth Torak at the Present Day Club. The show will run from March 3 through April 30.

pre-Columbian art, will discuss the art and architecture of the Maya from 500 B.C. to A.D. 1500. To chart the progression of Maya style, Prof. Griffin will refer to objects from the collection that he describes as especially rare and beautiful and in some cases, the only extant examples of their genre.

Free highlights tours of the collection are given every Saturday at 2 p.m.

The Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 5 and on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. It is closed on Monday and major holidays.

Princeton Ballet to Gain From Auction of Artwork

Works by Hibel, Dolittle, Ivert, Wysocki, Landry, Bertrand, Lubeck and other artists will be auctioned on Sunday, March 29, at 3 p.m. to raise money for Princeton Ballet's programs, which include Princeton Ballet School and American Repertory Ballet, the performing troupe. The Cranbury Station Gallery will provide the art for the auction.

The event will be held at the Princeton Junction Firehouse, 952 Alexander Road, where the doors will open at 3 p.m. for a preview and refreshments. The live auction will begin at 4, with opening bids on many works beginning at $40 and up. Although there will be a large collection of higher-end investment art, at least half of the show will be pieces with opening bids below $100.

Admission is $5. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at the offices of Princeton Ballet. Call the Princeton office, 262 Alexander Street, 921-7758, or the New Brunswick office, 17 Livingston Avenue, (908) 249-1254 for information.

For information about the works to be auctioned, call the gallery, 655-1193.

Exhibits

The Mariboe Gallery will feature works by Bernarda Shahn as the sixth in an ongoing series of exhibitions by artists from the Roosevelt community. The exhibition will run from March 30 to April 25. The public is invited to a reception for the artist Saturday, April 11, from 6 to 8. A concert by Roosevelt pianist Anita Cervantes and tenor Gregory Lorenz will follow the reception, at 8 p.m.

Critics have described Bernarda Bryson Shahn's recent oil paintings as classical, graceful, surrealistic and enigmatic. As a reviewer from Arts News magazine suggested, she is concerned with such classical themes as the relationships of man to man, man to nature, man to object, and man to thought.

Bryson Shahn was involved in the federal arts project of the '30s, in which she worked with her husband, the late Ben Shahn, making lithographs and murals.

She is also well-known as an illustrator and writer of children's books. Bryson Shahn began painting oils in 1969. She hadn't used the medium since the 1920s, but plunged full force into it while mourning the death of Ben Shahn, and has been painting intensely ever since.

Her works have been shown across the United States in such museums and galleries as the Contemporary Arts Museum of Houston; the Brooklyn Museum, Texas; the Albright-Knox Gallery, Buffalo; and the Springfield Museum of Art in Utah. She recently had a 60-year retrospective at the Midtown Payson Gallery in New York City.

The Mariboe Gallery is located in the Richard L. Swig Arts Center at the Peddie School, South Main Street, Hightstown.

"ARTEMESIA," by Gerrit van Honthorst, Dutch, 1590-1656, will be the topic of a talk by guest lecturer Frances L. Preston at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, March 13, at the Princeton University Art Museum. The talk will be repeated that Sunday at 3.

Ivy Title Now Secured, Princeton Basketball Team Can Concentrate on Next Challenge: The NCAAs

The time to celebrate finally arrived for the Princeton basketball team last weekend, but with it came a sober reminder that the Tigers have probably reached the limits of their success for this season.

A fourth straight Ivy title, the first time that has ever been accomplished here, was a foregone conclusion a couple of weeks ago, but the conclusion that it would be clinched officially Friday night proved erroneous. A Yale team that had lost five of its last six Ivy games upset Old Nassau, 47-46, in Jadwin Friday night. The Elis, by the way, resumed their losing ways the next evening against Penn, and will be lucky to finish 7-7 in the league.

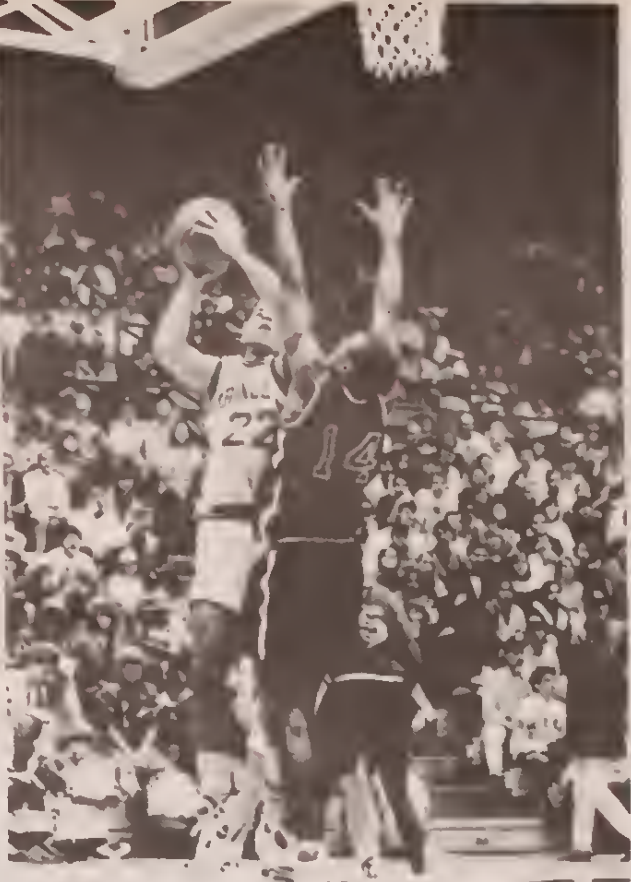

The expected celebration of the championship went on

SPORTS

Saturday, after a ho-hum 58-49 triumph over last-place Brown, but the 15-game winning streak, 26-game league streak disappeared. The chance to tie Penn for 30 consecutive Ivy victories also evaporated.

Two games remain in the regular season for Old Nassau, a visit to Cornell Friday night and Columbia in New York on Saturday. Victories in both would give the team a chance to finish 13-1 in the league and 23-4 overall. They would also serve to prove that the loss to Yale was a small aberration in an otherwise superb season.

But that may well be it for the Orange and Black this winter in terms of accomplishments. The NCAA Tournament beckons again, with seedings and first-round pairings announced late Sunday afternoon, March 15, and games set for Thursday or Friday, March 19 or 20. The four-year dream of winning at least that first-round game will be very difficult to realize.

Every member of the starting five, Chris Mooney, Rick Hielscher, Matt Eastwick, Sean Jackson and George Leftwich, will need to contribute to enable the Tigers to pull off a victory. The level of play shown against Ivy opponents in recent weeks will have to be raised. Beating mediocre league foes is not the best way to prepare for a topflight opponent in the NCAAs. Given the schedule, unfortunately it's the only way. There will be no television game against Loyola-Marymount this time.

Pete Carril will have 10 days from the end of the season this weekend to prepare his team. It's like the start of a new season, but this time the level of expectations is considerably lower than it was in November.

Who Woulda Thunk It?

If there was one person among the 6,064 mostly Princeton fans who arrived at Jadwin Friday night feeling the Tigers would lose to Yale, it would be surprising. And yet as the upset unfolded, it all made perfect sense.

Several times this winter, Old Nassau has not played up to its abilities. However, it has emerged a winner in the second half, helped by a combination of its own determination, and its opponent's mistakes. This time the Elis did not accommodate the Orange and Black by backing down at the end.

Another poorly played first half (similar to the recent outing against Dartmouth) left Princeton in a 29-20 hole at the intermission. The Tigers' offense had no flow to it, and it was further weakened when George Leftwich picked up his third personal and had to sit down.

In sharp contrast to their recent play (five losses in six games), the Bulldogs shot 68 percent, aided by several open shots from in close. Using the maximum on the shot clock, the visitors mimicked to perfection what Princeton wanted to do, but couldn't.

The second half began with Yale expanding its lead to 11, before the clock even started ticking. Carril had been hit with a technical for arguing too vehemently about the play that ended the first half. Yale's David Brown hit a three-pointer at the buzzer, but Carril was incensed he wasn't called for walking before the shot.

"I was very disturbed at halftime, because we were playing very stupidly," Carril said. "But nobody is going to tell me he didn't walk. He walked, ran hopped and skipped."

Whatever Brown did, the technical cost Princeton two points in a one-point game when Yale's Ed Peterson sank both foul shots. For the next 12 minutes, it didn't appear those points would make a difference. With their offense creating the movement it didn't have in the first half, the Tigers scored 16 of the next 20 points, and took a 36-35 lead with 8:44 to go.

If this was the time for the Elis to fold, it didn't happen. For one thing, they beat Princeton's press every time, and committed just four turnovers the entire game. The teams traded baskets from that point, and Princeton found itself needing a couple of big three-point baskets by Sean Jackson to hang in. The second gave Princeton a 46-45 lead with 30 seconds to go.

Yale had one final answer, a drive from the left by Rob Connolly, who pulled up and hit a five-foot jump shot with 10 seconds remaining. After a time out, Sean Jackson took an in-bounds pass and drove up the floor. He launched one more three-pointer, but this one bounced off the rim, giving the

One of the most unusual sports events ever held took place in 1979 in Nampa, Idaho ... A crowd of about 1,000 people plus bands and cheerleaders turned out for a basketball game that lasted exactly ONE SECOND ... The night before, a high school game had ended in a dispute over whether the clock was started properly in the last second of the game ... The next day, officials ruled that the last second had to be replayed ... So, players, spectators, bands and cheerleaders came back for that one-second replay ... Even a radio station broadcast it ... It had to be the shortest event in sports history.

I bet you didn't know that we insured the U.S.A. Olympic hockey team in Albertville, France.

Which golfers in history have won the most major championships — including the U.S. Open, British Open, PGA, and Masters Tournaments? ... The top 5 of all-time are led by Jack Nicklaus who has won 20 majors ... Next is Walter Hagen who won 11 ... Then come Ben Hogan and Gary Player who won 9 each ... And Tom Watson who's won 8.

Incredibly, of the 28 teams in the National Football League, 21 of them have changed head coaches since 1989.

Elis their first victory in Jadwin since 1986 (57-52), and only their second since the place was built.

Harvard was the last Ivy team to win in Jadwin — on February 24, 1990.

Saturday Night Does It

A slightly smaller crowd, 5,711, showed up 24 hours later to watch quietly while the Tigers took care of the business that eluded them against Yale. The excitement of the previous night was missing for most of the game.

Princeton took the lead for good midway through the first period, and led by 12-28-16 — at halftime. Mooney was impressive early on, scoring 10 points.

However, instead of building on their lead during the second half, the Tigers allowed Brown to climb back to within nine points, 49-40. It should have been seven with about four minutes to go, but the Bears blew two layup attempts. Unlike Yale, which shot 53 percent the night before, the Bears' accuracy was just 38. Jackson hit a three-pointer after that, putting the lead back up to 12, and eventually a fourth straight Ivy title was in the bag, albeit 24 hours late.

Mooney ended with 19 points, Jackson had 13, Rick Ilielscher and Leftwich, 11. Eastwick had just two, but did grab a team-high seven rebounds. One disturbing note, for the second night in a row the Tigers made just half their foul shots — five of 10.

Tiger Sextet Wins Last 2 Beating Union and RPI

Finishing the regular season with a flourish, the Princeton hockey team gained a sweep on the road for the first time this season.

Beating Union, 4-1, Friday night and RPI, 5-3, Saturday evening, the Tigers repeated a sweep of these two opponents earlier this year in Baker Rink. The triumph over the Engineers secured ninth place for the Orange and Black, sending it against eighth-place Colgate in the preliminary round of the ECAC playoffs this past Tuesday night (too late to be covered here).

The other first-round game matched RPI at Vermont. The trip to Hamilton, N.Y. is the same one Old Nassau had to make a year ago. It played the Raiders even for two periods before losing, 5-2.

FINE CAREER ENDING: Princeton hockey defenseman Jeff Kampersal, who had two goals and an assist last weekend, has played superbly the latter half of this season.

Based on Princeton's strong finish, winning four of its last five, there was hope the outcome could be turned around this year. Colgate beat the Orange and Black twice by slim margins, but it's awfully difficult to turn the trick a third time.

If Princeton pulls off an upset, it will move on to the quarterfinals against either Harvard or St. Lawrence. A Vermont win over RPI would send the Tigers to Cambridge. If RPI wins, they'll play the Saints in Canton.

Whatever the outcome, the team and first-year coach Don Cahoon have already surpassed last year's 7-14-1 mark in the ECAC and 8-18-1 overall. The Tigers won two more Division I games to finish 9-12-1, and with at least one game remaining are just two games below .500 at 11-13-1.

Union, RPI Defeated

The first line of Andre Faust, Mike McKee and Troy Ewanchyna led the weekend sweep against Union and RPI, scoring 11 points. In both contests, Princeton tallied goals in the first and second periods to lead 2-0 after two.

Brian Bigelow and Jeff Kampersal started things rolling against Union. Matt Zilinskas (recovered from a neck injury) and Terry Morris, scoring on a shorthanded breakaway, made it 4-0 before the Flying Dutchmen averted a shutout late in the third.

At RPI, Scott Sinson and Matt Zilinskas provided the 2-0 advantage, which the Engineers cut to 2-1 at 3:25 of the third. But McKee and Faust tallied just over a minute apart to give the Tigers a 4-1 lead. RPI made good on a power play opportunity at 10:15, and two minutes later Kampersal answered that with the Orange and Black skating with a man advantage.

No better than one for 10 on power play chances against Union, the Tigers improved to three for six against RPI, and finished the season as the best in the division at 27 percent. They also killed off 15 of 17 power plays by their opponents.

With Zilinskas healthy, the only player still hurting is Ian Sharp, who has a hand injury. He did not dress Saturday, and it was uncertain whether he would play against Colgate.

Showdown Is Thursday For Little Tiger Five

It will have been a long, nine-day wait but showdown time for the Princeton High basketball team will arrive Thursday.

On Thursday at 7, the fourth-seeded Little Tigers will host fifth-seeded Holmdel in an opening contest in the eight-team NJSIAA Central Jersey Group II state tournament. If Princeton prevails, it will advance to the semifinals where it will face the winner of Carteret-South Plainfield game on Saturday.

Carteret is the number one seed, South Plainfield is seeded eighth. No matter who wins, the semifinal game will be played at Carteret at 7 on Saturday.

Says PHS coach Doug Snyder, "I have a good feeling about Thursday night. I've seen Holmdel play twice and I think we have a good chance against them." Taron Conover is nursing a sprained ankle, he reported, but by game time everyone should be ready to go.

This will be the first trip to the state tournament for Snyder, who is in his fifth year as coach of the Blue and White.

Last week, Snyder got his second look at Holmdel when he saw it play Matawan. "It was an interesting game," he said.

A Matawan player hit two foul shots with five seconds to go to give his team the lead, but Holmdel's top player, David Wood, let fly a three-pointer, was fouled and made all three shots to snatch the game away. "So they know how to win," said Snyder.

Final Game a Rout

Princeton ended its regular season last week with an 80-41 rout of winless Lawrence in a makeup game to finish with a 15-7 mark.

It was no contest from the start, as Lawrence (0-20) fell behind 21-4 in the first period.

Nine players scored for the Little Tigers, including four in double figures. Bram Reynolds led with 19, Rodney Derry added 12 and Ben Stentz and John Procaccini connected for 10 each. For Derry it was his 357th point of the season; Reynolds has hit for 343.

The winning season was the first for PHS since 1984-85 when the Little Tigers finished 15-8, and only their third in the last ten years.

Kingston Club Wins Big But Settles for Second

The Kingston Hockey Club blasted Valley Forge, 11-1, last week, in what defenseman Bob Smyth said was "probably our best effort of the season."

But it wasn't enough. Princeton Hockey Club also had little trouble subduing Essex Hunt Club by the same 11-1 score to clinch the Southern Division title in the Commuters' League. Kingston finished second at 6-3-1; PHC, with one game left to play, is 7-1-1.

John Cook led the Kingston attack with three goals and a pair of assists. Colie Donaldson and Aubrey Huston each scored twice and Steve Cook, Steve Gill, Billy Cox and Dave Connors added single goals. Steve Cook contributed four assists while Smyth assisted on two goals. Goalie Eric Monberg had 22 saves.

The win leaves Kingston in a winning frame of mind for the annual Horton Cup tournament which will be played next weekend, the 14th and 15th, at IceLand in Hamilton. Ten hockey clubs will compete.

Tiger Lacrosse to Open Season amid Lofty Expectations

If you're coach Bill Tierney and the Princeton lacrosse team it must be a little frightening to realize that anything less than an Ivy title (the first in a quarter century) and a spot in the NCAA Tournament will be a letdown.

But, after two hugely successful seasons, these are the goals of the Tigers this year and the expectations of their growing legions of fans. The quest will begin in the season's opener this Saturday in Baltimore against Johns Hopkins.

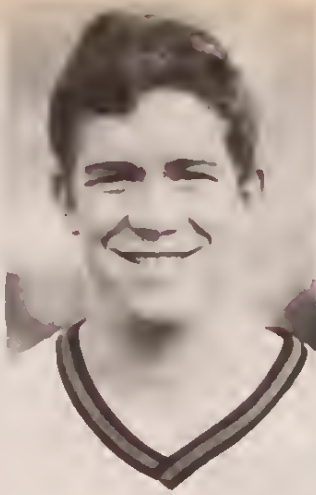

That will be the first high hurdle in a 12-game schedule that includes five other teams that qualified for the NCAA last year, including defending champion North Carolina, Virginia, Rutgers and Ivy champion Brown. All these inviting games are on the road; the home schedule will begin Saturday afternoon, March 14 against Bucknell.

Blessed with an ability to attract some of the top high school players in the country, Tierney, who came here in 1988, needed just three seasons to turn a long-suffering program around. His 1990 squad finished 11-5, 4-2 in the league, and reached the NCAA quarterfinals before losing to Yale. In '91, the overall record improved to 12-3, the league mark to 5-1, but a memorable triple overtime loss to Towson State again ended the bid for the NCAA title in the quarterfinals.

The general feeling is that those achievements can be surpassed this spring, with a veteran team that lost just five seniors, and only one starter, attackman Chris McHugh. However, Tierney underscores the importance of keeping things in perspective.

"Our players must now be able to handle being the favorite in a lot of our games," he points out. "How they handle this role will determine the success of our season. We will be a big game on many opponents' schedules." Pre-season estimates have Princeton as one of the top three teams.

Referring to the lofty expectations for his team, Tierney is refreshingly candid and optimistic. "Every indication from the senior class is that we will [meet them]. Senior leadership, especially in the Ivy League, is so important, and these guys have been leaders since day one." Tierney will have 14 seniors in starter or immediate back-up roles, plus several talented juniors and sophomores.

Tortolani Leads Attack

Senior captain Justin Tortolani, a first-team all-Ivy and honorable mention all-American, leads the attack. He has led the team in goals the past two years. Sophomore Kevin Lowe, the team leader in scoring (55 points), established a school record for a single season in assists.

Several talented returnees are vying to fill the other starting job on attack. These include sophomore Taylor Simmers, who had eight goals and seven assists as a freshman, junior John Burstein, 21 goals the past two seasons, and senior Andrew Madden. Freshmen to watch are Scott Conklin, Syracuse, N.Y., John Stanitski, Pittsburgh, Pa., and J.D. Mello, Rye, N.Y.

With great depth at midfield, Tierney expects to rotate in as many as 10 players a game to keep them fresh. Headlining this group are five seniors, each of whom has played on one of the first two midfield units for the past four years.

Senior captain Andy Moe, a first-team all-Ivy selection, was the fourth leading scorer as a junior with 22 goals and two assists. Senior Ed Calkins has played in every game since his arrival three years ago. Malcolm Meistrell and Highley

David Gaines

Thompson have seen plenty of duty and performed well in big games. The fifth senior is face-off specialist Greg Waller, named as the team's most valuable player in '91. He won better than 67 percent of the face-offs last season.

Junior Torr Marro, hampered by injuries a year ago, is looking to regain the form that won him Ivy League Rookie of the Year in 1990, when he accounted for 20 points. Two other juniors expected to contribute are Charlie Herrick and Jeff Riggio.

Three seasoned sophomores are ready to roar after impressive rookie seasons. Scott Reinhardt started all 15 games, Brian Tomeo, is perhaps the most improved player after fall practice, and Paul Murphy appears ready for a big year.

Senior Mike Mariano returns as the leader of the defensive midfield. This season will mark his fourth as the player responsible for guarding the opponent's top midfielder. Never apparent in the scoring totals, his contributions were recognized in post-season honors: first-team all-Ivy and third team all-American.

The defense returns intact led by junior David Morrow, another all-Ivy first-teamer, who covers the opposing top attackman. Seniors David Gaines and John Schroeder are both three-year starters. Four other players will vie for playing time, including senior Todd Murphy, sophomore Peter Ramsey, junior Michael Kotin and sophomore David Getson.

Scott Bacigalupo came here last year as a freshman preceded by rave reviews for his work in goal. He did not disappoint for a moment, merely earning first-team all-Ivy and second-team all-America honors. He finished with an overall mark of 7.2 goals against and a save percentage of .670. With a year of college varsity experience behind him the coaching staff is hoping he can be even better in '92.

There won't be many chances to see this team in action, but if all goes well, Princeton fans will be treated to another NCAA playoff game in the middle of May.

The home schedule, March 14, Bucknell; March 15, SUNY/Stony Brook; April 4, Yale; April 8, Penn; and April 25, Cornell.

PHS Sends 4 Wrestlers To Region V Tournament

Princeton High wrestling coach Matt Wilkinson didn't get the five that he had hoped to send to the NJSIAA Region V tournament this week at Hunterdon Central but he came close: he got four.

PHS had one reach Saturday's District 17 championship round, where Ian Reddy lost for the first time to top-seeded Rudy Wadle of North Hunterdon, 15-2. Three others won consolation matches to finish third and advance to the Regionals. Nick Sferra defeated Chris Owens of Ewing, 6-3, at 130 pounds; Steve Lutkowski carved out an 8-3 decision over Pete Hunt of South Hunterdon at 152 pounds and Adam Basatemur defeated Hunterdon Central's Jeremy Compton, 6-3, to finish third in the 160-pound division.

Both Sferra and Lutkowski are sophomores. It marks the first time ever at PHS, noted Wilkinson, that sophomores had advanced to the Region competition.

As expected, Hunterdon Central, North Hunterdon and Voorhees made it a three-way battle for team honors in the District 17 matches held during the weekend at Hunterdon Central. Voorhees finished on top with 205½ points, Hunterdon Central was second at 198½ and North Hunterdon third at 176½. Among six Mercer County teams, West Windsor was fourth with 68 and PHS fifth with 59.

Wilkinson, who has fashioned a fairly accurate record as a predictor, has one more: Reddy and Wadle will meet in a rematch in the Region V tournament. All top-three finishers in the District competition advanced.

Princeton High's four survivors will wrestle this Wednesday in the Region V pre-quarterfinal round. Region V takes the top three finishers from Districts 17, 18, 19 and 20.

The top three Regional finalists will advance to the state tournament. The last time a PHS wrestler reached the state level was in 1978 and '79 when Wilkinson entered the state competition both times as a Region runner-up. The only other Little Tiger to reach the state level was in 1972, when Junior Arcaro was Princeton's lone Region champion.

"So one of my goals is to have someone get to the states. I think," said Wilkinson, "we're going to accomplish that this year."

First Loss for Reddy

Reddy, now 21-1, entered the District competition unbeaten, but in Wadle he faced the defending 103-pound champion and the top-seed in that division. After an opening bye, Reddy pinned in the quarterfinals and semifinal rounds, flattening Craig Berner of IIC in 5:20 in the semis. But he was no match for Waile.

"I didn't think it would be that lopsided and it shouldn't have been," said Wilkinson. "I think Ian was a little bit overwhelmed by the atmosphere of the finals and the crowd. Waile is very, very good — not to take anything away from him — but Ian just didn't perform well."

Basatemur came within a dozen seconds of joining Reddy in the finals. He was leading second-seeded Derrick Van Doren of North Hunterdon 7-6 with 12 seconds left, reported Wilkinson, when the referee awarded VanDoren two back points on what Wilkinson termed "a very, very questionable call."

"Adam was very upset but he came back and beat the boy from Hunterdon Central in the consolations," Basatemur (17-5) was seeded third in the 160-pound division.

Sferra, said Wilkinson, "probably wrestled his best three matches ever." Unseeded, Sferra upset third-seeded Mike Eisenhart of North Hunterdon, 6-4, before losing on a 5:36 technical fall to runner-up Kyle Garcia of Voorhees in the semis.

Lutkowski, seeded fourth, followed the same route, a decision in the quarterfinal round but suffering a 2:44 pin in the semifinals to runner-up Chris Vidak of North Hunterdon. In the consolations Lutkowski came back to beat Hunt, who had beaten him 6-0 in a dual match. "For a sophomore to come back and beat a senior is pretty good," said Wilkinson.

His fifth choice to finish among the top three was Alex Weinberg, who was ousted when he lost an 8-3 decision to North Hunterdon's Ron Martin in the quarterfinals.

PDS Hockey Ends 8-12; Loses 2 in Tournament

As the saying goes, it was deja vu all over again, for the Princeton Day hockey team in its season-ending tournament this past weekend.

Playing Moses Brown in the first round Friday afternoon and St. Mary's School in the consolation Saturday morning, the Panthers almost buried themselves in a couple of 0-4 holes after two periods. In both third periods, they put on sud-

PDS Basketball Team Captures First Prep B Crown Since 1985

It's been a long time between Prep B titles for the Princeton Day basketball team.

So long that guys like Bill Noonan, Tim Howard, Jon McConaughy, Rob Chubbard and Lynch Hunt graduated from college several years ago and are out in the working world. Heck, some might even be married with children by now.

They were members of the 1985 Panther squad, the last one to win the title, until last Saturday. Now, thanks to first-year coach David First and his players, there will soon be a new, blue-and-white banner to hang in the PDS gymnasium.

The Panthers followed a tight 50-47 triumph over Dwight Englewood in the semifinals, with a 59-39 whipping of Gill St. Bernards in the finals held in Edison. Princeton Day, which finished with a 17-8 record, was only the fourth seed in this tournament, but it was a team on a mission. A year ago, the team had also reached the finals, but lost a game it felt it should have won, letting Rutgers Prep carry off the title.

Sparked by the motto, "we refuse to lose," the Panthers took control of the game from the outset, against sixth-seeded Gill, which had already beaten Rutgers Prep and Pennington, the second and third seeds. PDS led 18-10 at the end of the first quarter, and expanded that to 36-24 by the intermission. There was no let up in the third; outscoring GSB, 16-6, the Blue and White enjoyed a 52-30 advantage entering the fourth. The final quarter was merely a countdown to the celebration.

James Reed capped a superb career with 19 points, pushing his record-breaking total to 1,572. He was followed by Dan Ragsdale, who hit a couple of three-point shots, and finished with 12. Jason Powell and Akey Brown had eight apiece.

First, who became coach when Maura Kelly left to have a baby, said he had been motivated by repeatedly watching a film of last year's loss to Rutgers Prep in the finals. Next season, the motivation will have to come from somewhere else, and Reed's graduation will leave a big gap to be filled. David Wise and Gary Moore will also depart. However, a solid nucleus of juniors returns in Ragsdale, Powell, and Walter Hosey.

The victory over Dwight in the semi-finals was perhaps bigger than the triumph in the finals. The north Jersey school had dominated PDS in their regular season meeting, 67-41.

Two DE players, Ari Kriegsman and Mike Giglio had 48 points between them in that first game. Knowing what they were up against this time, First and his players made a few adjustments, and held the pair to 33.

The teams were never separated by more than a few points from the opening tip-off to the final buzzer. PDS took an 11-9 lead at the end of the first period, but fell behind by one, 20-19, at the half. Dwight increased its lead at the start of the third, but Wise came off the bench to score a quick seven points to help the Panthers take a 37-33 lead at the end of the third.

Down the stretch, Dwight threatened but could not overtake PDS, which stayed ahead on the strength of five free throws by Reed. He finished with 16 points, seven rebounds and four assists. Wise added 10, Brown, 8, and Ragsdale, seven in the team effort. The loss was only the fourth for the Bulldogs in 21 games.

den offensive bursts to climb out and into contention, only to lose at the end.

The result was a 5-3 loss to MB in the first, followed by a 7-5 defeat by St. Mary's to close out an 8-12 season. It was a frustrating winter for the PDS faithful, who continually saw the Blue and White unable to score with any consistency, and when the goals did come, unable to hold off the opposition at the end.

If there is good news to report it lies in the future for this team that has plenty of talented freshmen and sophomores, who gained valuable experience this winter. If they all stick around,

PHS Skaters Ousted from State Tournament

Credit Princeton's High's high-scoring forward Brandon Perle with making the best observation: forget Princeton's first-round loss to Dwight-Englewood in the NJSIAA state tournament and remember the previous win over Lawrence, which gave the Little Tigers their first Mercer County crown.

Aside from playing some lackluster defense in the first two periods in their 7-5 loss to 11th-seeded Dwight-Englewood Friday, explanations for the Little Tigers' performance were hard to come by. PHS coach John Hutter said he didn't know why his team came out flat. "We should have blown these guys off the ice," insisted the second-year Little Tiger coach. Instead, he said, PHS did not skate well, did not pass the puck well and, for certain, did not attain the level of defense it needed if it had hoped to advance.

Although PHS had been seeded 22nd, expectations were high the confident Blue and White would advance off its performance in the County Tournament, where it had defeated two higher-seeded teams and that it would benefit from the loss to DE of Casey Kutner, the nation's leading high school scorer with 377 points. Kutner had been hit with a four-game suspension earlier in the week for a high-sticking incident against Montclair-Kimberley.

The Bulldogs, however, turned the loss of Kutner to an advantage. "We came together as a team," said Jason Gallina, who scored three of Englewood's first five goals. Gallina scored two minutes into the game and his teammates never trailed.

Perle tied it at 1 for PHS with the first of his four goals and, after the Bulldogs had taken a 3-1 lead at the end of the first period, Jason Battle's goal early in the second period cut the margin to 3-2.

Englewood then penetrated the porous Little Tiger defense to score the next four and soar to a 7-2 advantage. Perle single-handedly accounted for the game's last three goals in the span of a minute to make the final outcome seem close, his last coming with 2:42 left to play. Chris Healey assisted on two of the three, Alex Klein on one.

But even Perle, who came to PHS from Hotchkiss and went on to lead the Little Tigers in scoring with 37 goals, was quick to admit it was "too little too late." It was, he said, "our worst game of the season."

With the defense having an off game, PHS senior goalie Angus Guberman bore the brunt of the DE attack, stopping 35 of 42 shots. Guberman ended his career as the county's second-best stopper with 303 saves and a .901 save percentage.

For Guberman and seniors Jared Bilanin (13 goals), Klein (9) Josh Novak and Healey, it was the end of a year which saw the Little Tigers post a 14-4-1 record.

As for next year, maybe that will be the one the Little Tigers win that first state tournament game ever. Both Perle and Battle, the team's second leading scorer with 21 goals, will be back.

and don't disappear into boarding school, the Panthers will reap the benefits of this year's learning experience.

PDS will miss the contributions of five seniors, Jason Bilanin, Courtenay Boleha, Jud Henderson, James Francomano and Mark Trowbridge, and next year will list just one senior, defenseman Cyrus Alphonse, on the roster. So this year's underclassmen will be asked to carry the burden.

They include sophomores Tom Capotosta, Alex Batcha, Patrick Regan, Patrick Kerney, Erik Treilman, David Levine, and Andrew Overman. Freshmen Danny Knipe, Reynolds Thompson, John Leahy and Wesley Steffens, who will take over in goal for Francomano, will play big roles on next year's team as well.

After a scoreless first period against Moses Brown, the Blue and White gave up four goals in the second, and looked to be headed for a one-sided defeat. But the Panthers came out roaring in the third, scoring three times in the first six minutes. Levine tallied first, assisted by Trowbridge and Knipe. Two minutes later Knipe collected the puck at center ice, headed to the goal, and slipped the puck past the MB goalie.

Shortly thereafter, Knipe and Levine assisted on Leahy's goal bringing PDS to within one, 4-3. Although PDS enjoyed an 18-3 edge in shots in the third period, it could not get the equalizer. Francomano was pulled with a minute to go to add a sixth skater, but Moses Brown found the empty net at 14:46.

In the consolation game St. Mary's scored twice in the first, both on power plays, and twice more in the second for its 4-0 advantage. PDS had several chances itself, but could not connect. Shots went wide or high, or opportunities in front of the net were wasted.

Suddenly, in the third, PDS couldn't miss. Henderson blasted in a slap shot from the left face off circle at 1:43 to get things rolling. At 2:18, Bilanin tallied assisted by Regan. At 4:54, Knipe's pass from along the righthand boards found Levine unguarded in front of the net for the third goal.

Four minutes later, Knipe and Bilanin worked a pretty series of passes, with the former scoring to tie the score. It seemed just a matter of moments until PDS took the lead. The next goal was a matter of moments, 20 seconds to be exact, but it was St. Mary's that regained the lead instead, cashing in a two-on-one break. The Manhasset team scored twice more in the next three minutes to end completely any thoughts of a PDS victory. Henderson brought the final score to 7-5 with a goal with just two seconds left.

PHS Girl Swimmers Out Of NJSIAA 'B' Tourney

Rumson-Fairhaven captured all three relay races and swept the 100 backstroke last week en route to eliminating the Princeton High girls' swim team, 119-51, in a semifinal meet in the NJSIAA Central/South 'B' tournament held at the Ranney School pool in Tinton Falls.

Rumson-Fairhaven was seeded second, the Little Tigers third in the B or small school tournament.

Princeton's lone first-place finish came in the 100 butterfly where senior Molly Spooner swam a 1:13.07. Spooner was also second in the 200 IM. Princeton's Robin Meray finished second in the 50 free and third in the 100 free.

Third-place finishers for PHS were Anne Bracy in the 200 IM, Kate Blafson in the 500 free, Kathryn Gordon in the 100 breast, and Katerina Kucera in the 200 free.

PHS Falls to Moorestown In 'B' Swim Sectionals

Unbeaten Moorestown used its superior depth to defeat the 14-member Princeton High boys' swim team, 102-68, Monday in the quarterfinal round of the Central/South 'B' Sectional Tournament held at the Burlington County College pool.

The 13-0 Quakers finished first and third in all three relay events and allowed PHS only three firsts. Freshman Andy Potts claimed two of them, taking the 200 IM in 2:03.91 and the 100 breast in 1:05.86. London Jones won the 500 free for PHS with a time of 5:07.97 to beat out teammate Marshall Preston, who swam a 5:08.46. Jones also took a second in the 200 free, while Preston claimed another second in the 100 back.

Francis Franze of PHS finished second in the 100 fly and third in the 200 IM. Aaron Livingston was third in both the 50 and 100 freestyle events.

PHS finished its season with an 8-2 mark.

Hun Basketball Wins First Prep A Title in 9 Years

This time the Hun School basketball team would not be denied.

"It feels great. A long time in coming. It really feels good. We finally got it," said Hun coach Kevin Long, speaking for himself and all the members of the 1991-92 team that won the NJISAA Prep A state championship Saturday when it defeated the defending state champion, St. Benedict's, 67-56, at the Peddie School gym.

Last year in the state final, Hun lost 81-77 to the same St. Benedict's school.

It was, agreed Long, a nice way to cap a 23-4 season which also saw Hun win the Peddie, Solebury and Classic tournaments. But the state title, the one it had not won since 1983, was the one Hun wanted the most.

Not only a great way to cap a great year but a great way to cap the careers of his two four-year guards, Dion Hames and RaShawn Glenn, the finest backcourt tandem in the County. To say anything less would be the understatement of the year, said Long. "It was a great year."

And, added Long, "Certainly well deserved. Not only to win the state championship but to be able to say we played well. Obviously, it meant a lot to us."

Especially to those few who had toiled the last four years. To have gone without winning a state championship would have been difficult to have to live with.

"We have done a lot of things but we were never able to win this one. This one meant the most. It is a great thrill and I can't think of a group of kids who deserve it more," continued Long.

He commented that he has been asked if this is the best team he's had in his five years at Hun. After all, his team the year before won 25 games and the one the year before that won 29.

In terms of what they've done, in being able to overcome adverse conditions ... injuries, suspensions ... "to see them play the way they did this year ... I'm very proud of what they did," praised Long. In those terms, this team gets the nod.

Hames and Glenn were the heart and soul of the team. Their quickness and shooting left coach after coach shaking his head and confessing there was no way to stop them.

Hames, who missed the previous three games before the semifinal win over Blair Academy and the title game, finished with 501 points this year and a 20.8 average. He will enter Rider College in the fall.

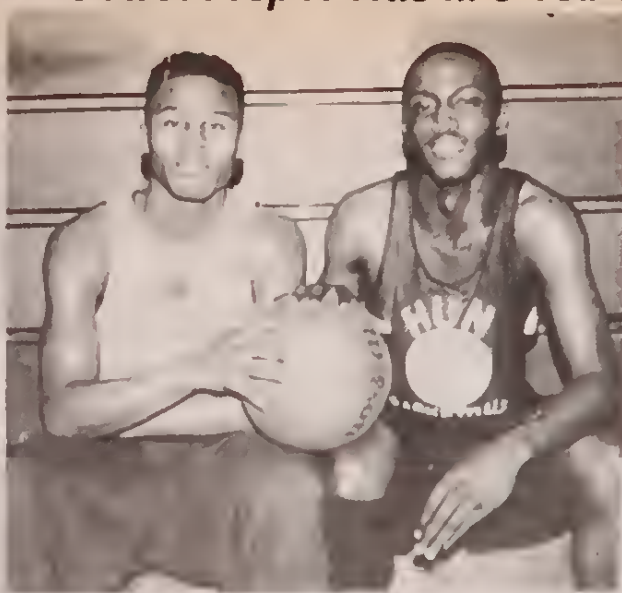

Glenn came on with a rush, netting 196 points in the last seven games, including a career high 43 against Gauchos, to end with 618 this season and a 22.8 points-per-game average. He has announced he plans to enroll at Holy Cross or Lehigh this fall. Both ended with more than 1,900 career points.

When Long took over the reins in the 1987-88 season, Hun finished 5-16. When Hames and Glenn first appeared, the Raiders finished 13-12. The past three years they have won 77 and lost 16 games. Talk about impact players.

We Would Come Back

Against 17-9 St. Benedict's, Hun got off to a slow start, falling behind 18-9 at the end of the first period. Long said he didn't feel his team was tight as much as it was emotional. "Everybody knew what it meant; we tried to treat it not as a do-or-die situation."

"I wasn't too concerned. I knew we would come back," continued Long. "We were rebounding well and playing some good defense."

4 YEARS, ALMOST 4,000 POINTS: Hun School's standout backcourt combination the past four years, Dion Hames (left) and RaShawn Glenn, led Hun to its first Prep A state championship since 1983 on Saturday to cap careers that saw each score more than 1,900 points.

Hun caught up to the Grey Bees midway through the second period, on a three-point play by Glenn. Hames scored 11 of his 15 points in the period. Hun led by one at the half and outscored St. Benedict's by ten in the second half, aided by some poor (four-for-13) foul shooting by the defending champions.

Glenn led all scorers with 27 points, garnering a third of those on three three-point shots. Sophomore Drew Kennedy added 11 and Courtney Fitch and Adrian Krause combined for a dozen more Hun points.

Three days earlier, top-seeded Hun had eliminated fourth-seeded Blair Academy, 78-60, at the Pennington School gym.

Glenn had 21 points to lead Hun in scoring, connecting on another three "trifectas," but it was 6-4 senior center Pat Fisher who played a key role with 15 rebounds and 13 points.

Hun also had its patented transition game in high gear, fueled by the play of Hames (18 points), junior Courtney Fitch (15) and Glenn. Hun led 40-28 at the half, 64 to 42 after three periods.

In the other semifinal in the same gym, St. Benedict's eliminated third-seeded Lawrenceville School, 50-44.

What about next year when Hames and Glenn will be no more? At this point, I'm just trying to enjoy this year," pleaded Long. Any team, he said, will be different from this year's squad.

He anticipates the return of 6-4 center Tom Ross, who was lost to the team midway this year for fighting. Fitch and Kennedy will be back. "That's three pretty good players to start with," said Long.

Then there are some jayvee players who will move up and perhaps some unseen freshmen ... but that can all wait. For now, Hun is the prep school state champion in basketball.

Girls' Tryouts Saturday

There will be tryouts for a Princeton Soccer Association-sponsored girls' soccer traveling team on Saturday from 10 to 12:15 at the front Washington Road fields. All girls born between August 1, 1981 and July 31, 1982 are eligible.

Those interested do not have to live in Princeton, but must play in the Princeton house league program on Saturday mornings. Traveling team games are on Sunday afternoons in the spring and the fall. For more information, call 924-9150 (evenings and weekends).

Hun Is One-Point Loser In Girls' State Final

So close — in both games.

The Hun School girls' basketball team, which had defeated second-seeded Oak Knoll by one point, 39-38, on Becky Jensen's jumper with a minute left to play in a semifinal game of the NJISAA Prep A tournament, lost in the final round three days later to top-seeded Mount St. Dominic's, 37-36. Hun, the Prep B champion the past two years, was competing in the Class A division for the first time, where it had been seeded second.

The Raiders ended with a 16-8 record.

Neither team was able to pull away in Saturday's title game, played at the Rutgers Prep gym. With two minutes left, St. Dominic's Anne Giblin made a three-point play to break a 32-32 tie. Two free throws by Hun's Jen Pontani cut the margin to one but Colleen Shannon, the victors' high scorer with 10 points, converted two free throws to put St. Dominic's up by three again with 14 seconds left.

Jensen connected on a field goal for her 14th and 15th points — high for the game — only this time, time had run out for Jensen and the Raiders.

A lot of missed shots in the first half (six-for-25) and only two points in the second period, hurt Hun, said Raider coach Dennis Lepold. That and Pontani picking up her third foul at the end of the first period.

Lepold, who had guided Hun to a 19-7 record the year before, was philosophical about the outcome. "You have to be a little lucky to win this tournament," he said. "We were lucky the past two years."

Allison Williams with 11 points, Pontani with six and Sarah Shields with four, together with Jensen's 15, accounted for all 36 Hun points. Against Oak Knoll, Jensen was the only Hun player in double figures with a game-high 17.

Among Hun starters, the 5-7 Jensen is the lone senior. She finished with 323 points this year for a 13.45 average and 1,247 career points. Her best games this season were back-to-back performances against Blair, in which she netted a season's high 22, followed by 20 against Hopewell Valley.

Lepold will have a strong contingent back for his fifth year next winter. Heading the list will be Williams, who was second in scoring with 276 points, an 11.5 average. Other juniors returning are Pontani, Wendy Peterson, Lauren McQuade, Shields, Jennifer Potash and Christy Cino.

Also, sophomores Erica McDonald, Rukya Blackwell and Allison Conway.

School Board

meet with Gov. Florio, I will make it clear that this is not my major concern," she said.

"Maybe the old Board said to do this, but the new Board didn't," said Mrs. Curtis. "I don't feel it's a proper way to spend your time. We have problems in town. If you want to be a lobbyist, be a lobbyist. I don't think that it helps any of the kids."

Opposition to Dr. Choye's lobbying on the school budget vote was also voiced by Board Members Gerald Groves and Ann Baynes Coiro. Dr. Coiro voiced her objection to the superintendent's lobbying with other I and J districts, the most affluent in the State.

"If we're going to form a coalition, I'd rather form it with Trenton than other rich districts," she said. "I believe in the intent of QEA."

Championing the right of Dr. Choye to express her point of view — even if it differs from that of the School Board — were Board Members Joel Cooper, Patty Soffronoff, Corinne Kyle, and Ruth Bronzan.

"I want her to be an educational leader with positions on the issues of the day," said Dr. Cooper. "I believe she has the right and obligation to do this." Dr. Choye's position on the school budget vote was included in a January letter objecting to certain portions of the QEA. The letter was signed by the 30 superintendents and sent to State legislators. The school budget vote is not addressed in QEA. Dr. Groves said he had missed this two-line paragraph in his reading of materials sent to the Board.

"It's the responsibility of members of the Board to read the minutes and know what has gone on. I'm outraged at the pot shots being taken," said the Rev. Frank Strasburger, who was a candidate for appointment to the Board when Allen Grossman resigned in the fall. The Board selected Mr. Godfrey.

"If it's a two-line letter, it's there," he added. "Stop blaming Carol and other people."

Visibly angry, but with her voice controlled, Mrs. Curtis stood and said, "Since I have been on the Board, I have tried repeatedly to find information on what has happened in the past. I either do not get it, or get it too late to discuss it."

After several pro-budget-vote comments from the audience, the School Board unanimously passed a resolution supporting the current process of local voting on the school budget.

A second resolution, instructing Dr. Choye to continue her efforts with the 30 other superintendents to change the QEA, passed 5-3. It was supported by Dr. Cooper, Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. Soffronoff, Mrs. Bronzan, and Mr. Godfrey. Voting against it were Mrs. Curtis, Dr. Groves, and Dr. Coiro.

After a break, Dr. Choye offered an explanation of the half million dollar curriculum and instruction budget. The questions on aspects of the budget turned to questions on the form of the budget itself.

Concern over Textbooks
Concern among members of the audience that students did not have enough textbooks led to Dr. Choye's being asked where certain textbooks were listed in the budget.

"English textbooks are listed in at least five separate areas of the budget," she replied. "They are hard to track." She did say that the $100,000 released by Borough Council and Township Committee for texts will be spent this year.

Again referring to the budget, Dr. Cooper said, "It is difficult to know how to spend next year if we don't know what we spent this year."

The 97-page school budget, prepared by Assistant Superintendent Robert Rader, does not include amounts spent last year. Its categories are, 1990-91 Adjusted Appropriation, 1990-91 Actual Encumbrances, 1991-92 Adjusted Appropriation, 1992-1993 Proposed Appropriation, Dollar Variance, and Percent Variance.

A member of the audience also asked for a comparison of costs to last year, and another accused the Administration of being purposely unclear on how money will be spent. "If you want to buy books for curriculum development, make a category for books for curriculum development," she said. "Get this expense on a line item. Get those line items on a summary page."

The Borough budget is an example of a budget that provides the previous year's expenditures, by line and by department. Its headings are, 1989 Actual Expense, 1990 Budget Amount, 1990 Actual Expense, 1991 Budget Amount, 1991 to Date, 1992 Department Request, and 1992 Administrator Recommendation.

Dr. Cooper said that he and other Board members were trying to get the same details as members of the public.

"This document is causing a lot of confusion," said Candace Preston. "I'm a financial analyst. I can trace numbers. There have been traced numbers. There are a lot of mistakes. The Board has to understand these numbers."

Ms. Preston added, after the meeting, that it would be possible to prepare a budget that could be understood as easily as the municipal budgets. This point has been made by former School Board Member Rosalind Frisch at a number of meetings, where she has pointed to West Windsor as a district — double the size of Princeton — that provides a much clearer, more easily understood, and more fully documented budget.

Cutbacks

Using figures that she and other parents have pulled together from several different sources, Mrs. Maher said that, in terms of raw dollars, the high school athletic department is spending almost $150,000 for boys and $71,000 for girls, a 68 to 32 percent ratio.

Swimming, although a co-ed sport, includes 35 girls and 15 boys. Eliminating the swimming program would bring the amount spent on boys to 72 percent of the total, she said. Girls would receive 28 percent.

The current number of students participating in athletics, Mrs. Maher said, is also grossly unbalanced, with about 58 percent boys and 42 percent girls.

"The athletic department can easily address this injustice by offering sports girls like, such as ice hockey," she said. While stating it was "worthwhile" to call the current ice hockey team co-ed, as the Administration does, it is clear by the absence of girls that it is a boys' team.

If money needs to be cut, Mrs. Maher said, it should be cut not from girls' or boys' sports, but from the administrative budget.

"Call to Action"

The meeting will also include a presentation to the Board of the proposed redistricting plan and discussion of an action plan for addressing issues of minority student performance.

Two weeks ago, Superintendent of Schools Carol Choye met with two representatives of The Robeson Group, who presented to her the group's "Call to Action" to improve minority performance in the Princeton Schools. The group was formed two years ago to address problems of minority and other students.

The group's initiative was in response to a recent Administration report on minority performance, which showed a pervasive performance difference between white and Asian students on one hand, and black and Hispanic students on the other.

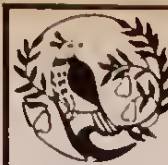

Both the Robeson Group and Dr. Choye's plan call for hiring a consultant. Dr. Choye, who recommends several in her report, said the consultant should perform a district-wide assessment this spring of the needs of minority students; recommend specific programs; and develop an implementation plan.

There remain unencumbered funds from the $440,000 State desegregation grant that can be applied to programs in the spring, said Dr. Choye. She would like to focus on strengthening home-school links, particularly those directed to early intervention; expand a program to sensitize staff to the needs of minority students; focus on putting multicultural materials into the classroom; and apply for a grant to the National Science Foundation along with the Trenton School District.

In the grant application, Princeton University and the Trenton and Princeton School Districts would ask for funding to participate in a program called Internet. Princeton University would become a station in an international computer network. Students at levels from elementary to college would then be able to access data and research at any of the participating Internet stations around the world.

These Are the Homeless of Mercer County

Christopher and his sisters have lived with their father since their mother's death a year ago. With the help of the Exchange Club, Christopher's family has moved from a Route One motel room to their own apartment. His father is now working full-time at a local corporation and is taking night classes to further his job skills.

We provide basic care — food, clothing, and medical care — to homeless families.

We deliver hot meals to approximately 100 homeless people along the Route One corridor three times each week. We provide breakfast and lunch to all homeless children in the area every weekday during the summer.

We began a program to insure that the health care needs of the motel children are met, bringing together a public-private coalition of hospitals, health care providers, and volunteers.

We make sure that every family in the motels has adequate clothing, and we provide toiletries and other necessities to meet emergency needs.

We make sure that the joy and magic of childhood is not lost to homeless children.

We operate Route One Readers, an after-school program that works one-on-one with homeless children to encourage reading and assist with schoolwork. We also provide an after-school snack and recreational activities for the children.

We provide over 100 homeless and abused children with toys on Christmas Eve. With the sponsorship of Bristol-Myers/Squibb, we host large Christmas parties, complete with meals, music, games, toys and Santa!

Our volunteers see that each homeless child has a cake and a present on his or her birthday.

We arrange recreational activities — including picnics, play days, and trips to the beach, the zoo, the circus, and Great Adventure. In 1991, we arranged for all homeless children in Mercer County to go to summer camp.

We help families develop the skills and resources necessary to break the cycle of poverty and homelessness.

Using our large network of individual and corporate contacts, we help parents find full and part-time work. In some cases, this means helping them define their own skills; in other cases, we have helped them get new skills.

We provide intensive individual assistance and have helped a number of families find permanent housing. In addition, we have provided "graduating" families with furniture, clothing, and groceries to help make their move successful.

Christopher, 18 months

How you can help

Join us! Bring your talents, your time, and your resources. We can find a good way to make your efforts count. And we won't waste your contribution. That's a promise!

We need money, volunteers, drivers, thinkers, communicators — you name it. We need appliances, furniture, and dollars — everything people need to live in our world.

If you would like to know more about the Exchange Club or how you can help, please call or write:

The Exchange Club of Greater Princeton

The Exchange Club of Greater Princeton helps homeless families in Mercer County with a variety of assistance programs. Begun in 1990, this local chapter of a national service organization uses an all-volunteer workforce to meet the needs of homeless families temporarily sheltered in motels along the Route One corridor.

The Exchange Club is committed to ensuring that our homeless neighbors receive adequate food, clothing, and medical care. We make sure that the children of homeless families have opportunities to learn and play. Most importantly, we work hard to empower these families to get out of the cycle of poverty and homelessness.

INTEGRATED PEST MANAGEMENT

INTEGRATED PEST MANAGEMENT is thought by many to be the process of avoiding pesticides or substitution of natural controls. In actuality, IPM is really the use of ALL tools and knowledge but limiting amounts and repetition and to choose the safest available method

At WOODWINDS, our IPM technicians have been trained at the University of Maryland, University of Pennsylvania, the National Arborist Association IPM Training Course in Boston and at Rutgers University. WOODWINDS technicians are fully accredited and qualified to recommend specific and individualized programs for each client.

Since insect damage can be categorized into three types, this allows the technician and client the option to choose the program best suited for the individual garden.

- The three categories include:
1. Cosmetic: Looks only and no direct threat to the plant
  2. Nuisance: Again, no real damage, but a byproduct creates a mess or bother (such as sap dripping on a car).
  3. Economic: Real damage, where the insect is an actual threat to the life and health of the plant in question.

Questions regarding our IPM PROGRAM are welcomed and consultation of your property is available by calling WOODWINDS (924-3500). We look forward to hearing from you!!!

OBITUARIES

Walker W. Stevenson Jr., 78, a longtime Princeton resident and loyal Lawrenceville School and Princeton University alumnus, died March 2 at Northern Westchester Hospital Center in Mt. Kisco, N.Y. He was visiting his daughter Sharon in Bedford, N.Y. at Christmas when he entered the hospital with a variety of medical problems.

For most of his long career in the securities business, Mr. Stevenson was senior partner in charge of branch offices and administration for the firm that was called Hemphill Noyes when he joined it in 1935 and later merged with Hornblower Weeks to become Hornblower Weeks Hemphill Noyes. In 1965 this firm merged with Loeb Rhodes and he continued as senior vice president, Loeb Rhodes Hornblower.

In 1981, following another merger, he became vice president and financial consultant with Shearson, Lehman Brothers in Lawrenceville. He was a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission and various SEC committees. He was also a member of the Bond Club of New York and director of the Fiduciary Mutual Investment Company.

Born in Montclair, Mr. Stevenson was a direct descendant of John Witherspoon, signer of the Declaration of Independence and sixth president of Princeton University. He attended The Lawrenceville School, where he was a member of the Debating Team, Tennis Team, Periwig Club and the board of the Lawrence.

Later he served the school as president of The Lawrenceville Alumni Association and as a trustee from 1967 to 1985. He was chairman of the finance committee of the board of trustees from 1975 to 1985 and became trustee emeritus in 1985.

Entering Princeton University in the fall of 1931, Mr. Stevenson was on the tennis squad and director of the Intracollegiate Athletic Association. He was an editor of the Daily Princetonian and manager for Theatre Intime. He graduated in 1935 and joined Hemphill Noyes as an account executive.

He continued to be active in Princeton University affairs, serving as class president for 10 years and also as chairman of the reunion committee. After serving as chairman of the Alumni Council he was elected alumni trustee of the University. He also served on the executive committee for the $53 million Campaign for Princeton.

Prominent in the front hall of his home on Hodge Road was the large stuffed tiger which he pulled behind him in every Reunion P-Rade. He and his wife were known for the Easter egg hunts they held each year at their home, and for their hospitality following the Yale football game for members of what he called "Princeton's Greatest Class" and their wives. Mr. Stevenson was also known for playing Santa Claus on the Reading Railroad "Wall Streeter" for many years.

During World War II, Mr. Stevenson was commissioned a lieutenant and served aboard a destroyer in the Pacific. Active in the community, he served as trustee of the Career Development Awards, chairman of the Princeton Hospital Drive, trustee of Miss Fine's School and the Princeton Ballet Society, and trustee and president of the United Way.

Walker W. Stevenson Jr.

A summer resident of Nantucket, he was a member of the Nantucket Yacht Club. He was also a member of the Nassau Club, where he lived in recent years, Springdale Golf Club, the Princeton Club of New York and Kappa Beta Phi.

Husband of the late Virginia Vogt Stevenson, who died in 1986, he is survived by three daughters, Susan Badder of Baltimore, Sharon Griffith of Bedford, N.Y., and Lisa-Margaret Stevenson of Washington, D.C.; three grandsons, Nathaniel S. Badder, Cabel S. Griffith and Alden B. Griffith; a brother, William P. Stevenson of Grantham, N.H.; and a sister, Gretchen Stevenson Merkl, of North Branford, Conn.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 6 p.m. in the Princeton University Chapel. Donations may be made to the Stevenson Family Memorial Fund of The Lawrenceville School, or to Princeton University.

Lucien A. Waddell, 88, a former Princeton resident, died recently at home in Richmond, Va.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. Waddell graduated from Amherst College in 1925 and later studied at the Sorbonne, Paris, France. He was a master at Peddie School, teaching mathematics and French for 30 years. Upon retiring in 1969, he joined his wife as owner/operators of Country Antiques at 173 Nassau Street for seven years before moving to Richmond, Va.

Husband of the late Eleanor Marsh Waddell, he is survived by two sons, Lucien A. Jr. of Rochester, N.Y., and John P. Waddell of Richmond; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at the University of Richmond. Memorial contributions may be made to Amherst College.

Mary E. Leuper, 72, of Rocky Hill, died February 29 at her residence. Born in Jersey City, she lived in Rocky Hill for 28 years.

Mother of the late Gerard Leuper, she is survived by her husband, Fred J. Leuper Sr.; a daughter, Mary Beth Gray of South Amboy; four sons, Fred J. Jr. and Justin T. of Rocky Hill, James M. of Hopewell and Christopher Leuper of South Brunswick Township; two grandchildren, Jessica A. and Sarah Elizabeth Gray; and a sister, Charlotte Murphy of Franklin Township.

Mass of Christian Burial was scheduled to be celebrated this Wednesday, March 4, at 10:30 at St. James Roman Catholic Church, Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, with burial in Rocky Hill Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to Health Care Ministry, c/o St. Paul's Church, 214 Nassau Street, Princeton 08542.

Elsie M. Cruser, 98, of Hightstown, died February 29 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., she lived in the Princeton area most of her life. Mrs. Cruser assisted her late husband, Fred E. Cruser, in the operation of his plumbing and heating business in Princeton.

She is survived by three sons, Fred E. Jr. of Alamogordo, N.M., John C. of Princeton and Paul A. Cruser of Ewing; a daughter, Grace A. Pittenger of Florida; 10 grandchildren; several great-grandchildren; and many great-great-grandchildren.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday, March 4 at 2 at Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue, the Rev. Dr. Matthew Ristuccia, pastor of the Westerly Road Church, officiating. Burial will follow in Princeton Cemetery.

Margaret Edwards, 71, died February 26 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center. Born in Stamford, Conn., she was a Pennington area resident for more than 40 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Marnie Edwards of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., and Jane Edwards Ajello of Merion, Pa.; two sons, Sandy Edwards of Flemington and Robert Edwards of Trenton; four grandchildren; two sisters, Kathryn Flynn and Florence O'Brien, both of Stamford, Conn.; and a brother, John O'Brien of Stamford.

A memorial Mass was celebrated Monday at St. James Roman Catholic Church, Pennington. Burial was in Pennington Cemetery under the direction of Kimball Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Merwick Unit of the Medical Center at Princeton, 79 Bayard Lane, Princeton 08540.

Emery Marton, 69, died March 2 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Nasna, Romania, he was a resident of Princeton since 1976. A corporate attorney, he retired as vice president and general counsel of Hoechst-Celanese Corp. in Somerville and was affiliated with Educational Testing Service for two years. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War II.

Surviving are two daughters, Elise Marton of Metuchen and Susan Marton of Melrose, Mass.; two sons, Peter Marton of Andover, Mass., and Eric Marton of San Francisco; two brothers, Theodore Marton of Reston, Va., and Gene Marton of Woodmont, Fla.; and three grandchildren.

The service was held Tuesday at Kimble Funeral Home, Cantor Robert Freedman of the Princeton Jewish Center officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Helen A. Drake, 95, of Skillman, died February 25 at Foothill Acres Nursing Home in Neshanic.

Born in Belle Mead, Mrs. Drake lived in Skillman for most of her life. An organist for the Hillsborough Reformed Church, she was a member of the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill and its Ladies Guild. She was also a Sunday School teacher and treasurer for 30 years. For many years she was active with the Montgomery School PTA and belonged to the Montgomery Senior Citizens.

Wife of the late Wilbur Drake, she is survived by two sons and daughters-in-law, John W. and Jeanne Drake and Donald and Alberta Drake, all of Skillman; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The service was held on Friday at a Hopewell funeral home, the Rev. Ruth Fries, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill, officiating. Burial was in Rocky Hill Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill, Reeves Lane and Route 518, Rocky Hill.

We believe that academic excellence later in life is largely due to an enthusiasm for learning inspired during the early years when a child's motivation is high and his/her chances for success are good. Students in our program in no way leave childhood behind for the sole purpose of intellectual growth. Rather, they celebrate the special gifts of their age: curiosity, flexibility, spontaneity, will, and wonder.

WHY BUY A MANSION WITH A PERFECT MOTHER-IN-LAW SUITE AND TWO POSSIBLE BUILDING LOTS IN PRINCETON? Do it because it makes sense. It's a safe way to own a big home. This Early American estate house belonged to Richard Stockton's widow, Princeton's original settlers. You should hear the story of how it came into being and why it's called "Mansgrove." The inside is so beautiful with a central hallway, winding staircase, ballroom, many fireplaces and authentic period rooms. Lovingly restored on 3 acres and as you can see with investment potential.

EXQUISITE PRINCETON FRENCH PROVINCIAL! Set on a lovely two-plus acre setting on one of Princeton's most desirable streets, this exciting Firestone offering features an impressive slate entry foyer, richly detailed rooms for entertaining, and European elegance throughout its impressive 4400+ square foot size. You'll enjoy romantic moods in the attractive master suite on the second floor, and lazy summer afternoons on the bluestone terrace next to the pool and very special brick poolhouse. 5 bedrooms, 3+ baths, 2 fireplaces, and a 3-car garage for your antique sports cars are just a few of the special features of this unique offering. If you are someone who expects the best, do call for further information and a personal inspection.

$950,000

IF IT'S EARLY AMERICAN CHARM IN A COUNTRY SETTING YOU'RE AFTER, come see this wonderful original clapboard colonial on 3 acres next to a stream. Inside you'll find wide pine floors, beamed ceilings, a living room, dining room, and kitchen, all with period fireplaces, plus a den, and 3 large upstairs bedrooms lovingly restored and cared for. Outside is an English barn, in-ground pool and an old stone keeping house. Call Firestone today and ask for Pat Cullen, our listing agent.

$450,000 — Also for Rent at $2,200

ON A QUIET CUL-DE-SAC NEIGHBORHOOD IN MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP JUST NORTH OF PRINCETON. Wonderful colonial on over an acre. Formal living room and dining room, eat-in country kitchen, family room with fireplace, and marvelous deck. Upstairs are 4 spacious bedrooms and 2 full baths. Hurry!

$279,000

$719,000

MAGNIFICENT PRINCETON WILLIAMSBURG COLONIAL is set on 2.33 acres of woodland with beautiful mature landscaping. Inside is a warm slate entry foyer with a front-to-back sunken living room with fireplace. The family room also has a fireplace and built-in bookcases with a French door to the flagstone patio. The formal dining room is accented with grasscloth and is convenient to the recently expanded eat-in-kitchen which has top-of-the-line appliances and a great breakfast area. Upstairs, are four ample bedrooms, including a step-down master suite plus room for expansion of another suite above the garage. It's a real find in this market, a house with character and priced to sell.

$629,000

NEW TO THE MARKET IN PRINCETON. A multi-level home on a lovely lot close to schools, shopping and community facilities. Spacious living room with fireplace, dining room with window wall to quiet deck, 3 bedrooms in all. Call soon and come see.

$219,000

EXCEPTIONAL VALUE FOR YOUR HOUSING DOLLARS — A lower-priced home in a desirable Princeton neighborhood of more expensive properties! For the smaller professional family or retirees, this charming 2-3 bedroom home boasts many of the features you love: gracious entry foyer, living room with fireplace, spectacular cathedral ceiling family room with floor-to-ceiling bookshelves, skylights, and its own private terrace; glass-walled dining room overlooking private lawn and woods. And so much more. Call Firestone today to arrange for your personal inspection!

SOME REALTORS BRING BUYERS FROM AROUND THE CORNER...

We Bring Buyers From Around The World.

The more buyers who see your home, the greater your chances of selling it at the price you want. While all Realtors say they recognize that, not all of them are capable of doing something about it.

We are. We're supported by 41,000 active sales agents working in 1,900 offices throughout North America. And while many real estate offices have only loose affiliation with independent relocation companies, we're backed by two company-owned relocation companies. They're our link to buyers all over the world. So if you're thinking of selling your home and want more buyers, call us at the number below. Our office is in Princeton, but we'll go to the end of the earth for you.

A long roof line, dormered windows and dentil molding frame the centered doorway of this charming classic Cape in western Princeton. Surprisingly spacious, it offers — a front-to-back living room with fireplace, formal dining room, modern kitchen with the choice of breakfast in a windowed nook inside or a deck outside and an adjoining lavatory. Upstairs, three bedrooms and a tiled bath. A gentle hillside allows the lower level family room with fireplace to open to a brick terrace. Ageless trees give seclusion to a beautiful rear yard. $305,000

NEW LISTING

In the foothills of the Sourland Mountains, the 3 acre zoning of this small exclusive enclave gives open space and woodlands of tall trees to the few distinguished homes. The exterior of this Contemporary with its siding of silvery gray anticipates the charming interior. The two story foyer is dramatic with its stairway of oak leading to a balcony above. Its handsome Brazilian tiles of a soft sienna hue extend into the superb kitchen and the skylit breakfast area and coordinate with the almond tone of the cabinets and appliances. The step-down living room is gracious with a cathedral ceiling and unique window wall. The dining room is windowed and skylit. A delightful family room has a brick fireplace and opens to a large deck and a 2000 square foot terrace surrounding a picturesque garden. The library adjoins the luxurious master bedroom and skylit bath. Upstairs - three spacious family bedrooms and hall bath. In the huge basement - an exercise room. An exceptional house - in Montgomery Township. $515,000
